Crisis Looms On Funds For Tri-County's Plant

... REA Loan Is Held Up By Rate Arguments

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

A new crisis, provoked on the one hand by differences of position over new power rate agreements and on the other by the necessity for additional money to meet construction demands for the Tri-County Public Power and Irrigation Districts 75,000 kilowatt steam generating plant at Lexington, confronts Nebraska, it was revealed Wednesday.

Although the state's public power agencies were reluctant to disclose information it seemed to shake down to about this: Tri-County, which entered the state's power shortage picture with an offer to construct a plant and began the project with emergency loans from several of the state's rural power agencies pending long range financing of approximately 17 million dollars by the federal Rural Electrification Administration, has used up its emergency loans, does not yet have its REA loan and must meet contracted obligations shortly after January 1, it is said.

Also Tied In
Tied in also is the need of the Nebraska Public Power System for approximately $9 million of the overall $26 million REA loan for its own works progress on transmission and substation program. The REA loan, it is understood, remains uncommitted because new power contracts between the state agencies required to support the loan have not been forthcoming. The involved agencies have not come to an agreement.

They include the Nebraska Public Power System, the wholesale agency which expects to receive and distribute the 75,000 kw output of the Tri-County plant, 27 rural power districts who have been receiving power under the previous cost of service contracts, some municipalities and Consumers Public Power District, principally a power retailer to non-REA communities.

Wants To Talk To Board

Ray Schacht, general manager of Consumers at Columbus, refused to discuss Consumers position until after he had met with the district's board of directors this week end. But he revealed that he had dispatched letters to a number of the bargaining representatives of the agencies setting forth some of Consumers views.

Dewey De Boer, general manager of NPPA made no public comment on the situation before leaving this week for Washington to confer with REA officials. Nor did Ralph Canaday, manager of Tri-County, who is also in Washington seeking early completion of the loan. A third member of the Nebraska delegation working the Washington end of the controversy was Lester Trussell, manager of the Norris Public Power District.

Holding Out For Hike
It was no secret however that the NPPS is holding out for a rate increase, namely the termination of its past cost of service contract by which it has been receiving $1.35 return on wholesale power sold for every $1 of its debt load. NPPS has asked either a $1.50 to $1.80 through a new cost-of-service agreement or some other type of agreement that will produce an equivalent return. NPPS has argued for some time that the poor guaranteed return has crippled its operation and impaired its credit.

It is also understood that the rural, while not unanimously in favor of the NPPS request, wish a greater equalization of rates with those of other agencies, principally Consumers.

A number of municipalities, it is said, are also using the occasion to obtain "a better deal" and to correct what they are convinced are past maladjustments.

Veiled Charges
There have been veiled charges that some agencies are obstructing agreements in the hope of plunging the state's power agency controversy into the Legislature.

There were also unconfirmed reports that Eastern REA and Norris REA are studying ways and means of withdrawing from Nebraska public power comity and supplying their joint needs with their own thermal generating plant.

The exact position of Tri-County remains obscure. It entered the picture as a sympathetic friend declaring a willingness to build the plant to contribute relief to the state's general power picture. Its action was generally endorsed by the other agencies and when the REA loan was not forthcoming last summer several of the state's rural electric agencies advanced approximately $1 million in short term emergency loans out of reserve to maintain the construction timetable against Nebraska's approaching power shortage.

It is understood these rural are not pressing Tri County for repayment.

Federal Aid To Schools 'Essential'—NEA Head

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

"Federal aid for school construction is essential if we are to have proper education facilities," Miss Martha Shull, president of the National Education Association, said Wednesday.

Miss Shull will speak in North Platte Thursday and to the Delegation Assembly of the Nebraska State Education Association Friday in Lincoln.

A high school teacher from Portland, Ore., Miss Shull has taught high school English for 31 years and has served in an official capacity with the NEA for 10 years.

Need Recognized

"I was pleased to learn that the delegates to the Governor's Conference (held at Grand Island) recognized the need for federal aid to schools," Miss Shull said. She emphasized that every state has some areas that absolutely need federal aid for school buildings.

In Oregon, she pointed out, a teacher must have four years of college to teach on an elementary level and five years for high school. Teachers there are also required to take six hours of college credit every four years to keep up with current studies.

"The number of people ready to start teaching now is at its lowest ebb, because of the low birth rate during the depression, but the number of students has been rapidly increasing," she said.

Urgent Problems

"One of the most urgent problems is how to really give every individual an opportunity for development according to his particular adaptabilities," Miss Shull said.

She said that her own personal ideas were for one or two special classes a day where the especially gifted child could attend advanced courses in mathematics, art, science, English, etc.

Miss Shull, who spoke in Omaha several years ago, also became acquainted with Nebraska when she accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Wayne O. Reed to the International Conference on Education in Geneva, Switzerland in 1954.

(Dr. Reed is assistant U.S. Com-

Miss Shull, who serves as NEA president until July, 1957, has Puerto Rico and Hawaii on her travel and speaking agenda for the coming months.

SNOW LIGHT BUT MORE IS EXPECTED

Scattered light snow Wednesday heralded a snow fall, possibly heavy, expected for the entire state Thursday.

Increasing northeasterly winds and colder temperatures, with highs ranging from 15 degrees in the northwest to 20 in the southeast, were forecast for Thursday.

A trace of snow fell at North Platte, Sidney and Scottsbluff with very light snow also being reported at Omaha, Norfolk, Alliance and Chadron.

Lincoln's temperature skidded to 19 degrees by early Thursday but no snow had been reported.

Temperatures in Lincoln Wednesday just reached the freezing point. The Lincoln Air Base, with 33 degrees, was the only one of the 10 reporting stations in the state to top that mark.

The mercury at Chadron only got as high as 13 degrees. The low there was 10 degrees.

The intensely cold air mass from the north which settled over the Plains pushed temperatures well below zero in the northern part of the region.

And the Weather Bureau warned of the possibility of a new storm which might develop in Colorado and increase the snowfall in Nebraska and northwest Kansas.

Woman, 4 Tots Die In Blaze

CLEWISTON, Fla. (AP)—Flames from a stove explosion burned to death a woman and four children Wednesday. The fire leveled the frame house.

Investigators said the mother, Jewel Bryant, 25, apparently poured kerosene into the wood stove. One of the children, Paulette, 10 months, was her daughter. The others, Richard, 3; Joyce, 18 months; and Bernita, 2, were relatives.

Committee Reverses Itself, Decides On Regulation On Officials' Financial Interest In City Business

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Charter Revision Committee has rescinded a previous action and placed in the new charter regulations governing the interest of city officials in city contracts and purchases.

That and a number of other actions were taken as the group completed its preliminary draft of the revamped charter at a Wednesday night meeting.

Previously, the Committee had voted to leave as a responsibility of the City Council the adoption of regulations governing the interest, if any, that officials of the city could have in city contracts and purchases.

The last adopted proposal, however, provides that an official of the city may have an interest in city contracts and purchases but must publicly declare such interest. The official is also forbidden from voting on any contract or purchase affecting his interest.

Subject to conviction in court, violation of that provision calls for forfeiture of office plus a fine of not more than $100 and-or 60 days in jail.

The same provision requires the mayor, Council members, department heads or members of the City Planning Commission or Board of Adjustments to declare their interest, if any, in any city action pertaining to public or private development of land. Again, in event of such interest, the party concerned is not permitted to vote on the issue involved.

The land development clause is aimed primarily at interest in zoning matters but includes all actions by the city which might have an effect upon the value of certain properties.

Mindszenty Tortured 29 Days, Nights

NEW YORK (AP)—Hungary's Cardinal Mindszenty was tortured by Red secret police for 29 days and nights before his trial on treason charges in 1949, he disclosed in an interview published Wednesday night.

The cardinal said he was stripped nude, beaten for days on end with a rubber hose, kept in a cold, damp cell to irritate his weak lung, forced to watch obscene orgies, and questioned without sleep throughout the entire period.

When he collapsed, he was revived immediately to deprive him of rest, but no drugs were used to make him confess to trumped-up treason charges at his trial, the cardinal told his interviewer, Hungarian-speaking Leslie Balogh Bain. The interview was published in Look magazine.

Captive Eight Years

Bain said the cardinal Nov. 4, first in a building near the Hungarian Parliament. This was shortly after Mindszenty's release following eight years of confinement and just before he was granted asylum in the U.S. legation in Budapest, on orders of President Eisenhower.

Bain completed the interview at the legation, his story said.

Cardinal Mindszenty was still defiant of Hungary's Communist regime, the interview emphasized. It quoted him as saying he would never submit to force to accept the regime but instead would fight on against it.

Unspeakeable Brutality

"I will present to the world my own record of the unspeakeable brutality practiced on me, which is beyond the imagination of a normal human being," the cardinal was quoted as saying.

His memoirs will aid in raising funds for the impoverished Roman Catholic Church in Hungary, he told his interviewer.

The cardinal also gave Bain a copy of this plea he sent Eisenhower from his refuge in the U.S. legation:

"I beg of you do not forget, do not forget, do not forget this small, honest nation which is enduring torture and death."

Photographic Copy

There were reports in Budapest that the cardinal's 62-year-old secretary Msgr. Egon Turchanyi, was arrested by Soviet troops as he sought to leave Hungary two weeks ago with the message, dated Nov. 8. But the magazine prints a photographic copy of the message as Mindszenty typed and signed it. It was brought out by Bain.

Since then the U.S. legation in Budapest has ruled that Mindszenty may not give statements or interviews while on legation premises, to avoid infringement of international law.

The interview describes the race Mindszenty had with a Soviet tank at the last moment to reach the refuge given him by the new U.S. minister, Edward Wales. His refuge is a legation room in which a leather couch serves as his bed, a hot plate as his kitchen and the minister's desk as his altar.

It is there, the interview reported, that Mindszenty is writing his own manuscript of his experiences.

Hungary Stalls On Dag Visit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

Red Hungary refused Wednesday to receive Dag Hammarskjold in Budapest on a mercy mission on Dec. 16 but still left open the possibility of a visit by him later.

The abrupt turnaround of the secretary general's plan to go personally to Hungary and initiate U.N. relief activities came as a shock and surprise to many delegates. Apparently it caught by surprise also the Red Hungarian foreign minister, Imre Horvath, who had recommended the date after consultations Tuesday with Hammarskjold.

Horvath merely shrugged and smiled and said, "Apparently my government did not agree with me" when asked about the development. The word from Budapest was that no official request had been received, a statement which a number of delegates found puzzling in view of Horvath's agreement to the plan announced Tuesday night.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. denounced the action of Budapest as "an affront to the secretary general and to the whole civilized world."

Others began talking about moves to revoke the credentials of the Horvath delegation if Hungary and the Soviet Union do not agree by Dec. 7 to accept U.N. observers in Hungary. The deadline was fixed early Wednesday by the Assembly.

Some diplomats said they were puzzled by Budapest's word it had received no official request since Horvath agreed to it Tuesday night and Hammarskjold apparently took his agreement as final.

They suggested Budapest wants to be in complete control of the situation and have all the signs of revolt put aside before Hammarskjold arrives.

Strike Called In Seething Capital

By KATHARINE CLARK

BUDAPEST (INS)—Red troops clubbed Hungarian men and women to the ground with rifle butts Wednesday when new anti-Soviet demonstrations exploded in Budapest.

Onrushing tank treads and the swinging rifles dispersed the women, who were demonstrating for the second straight day, and their menfolk who joined them.

Thirty-nine persons were arrested in the attempt to crush the six-week-old resistance of Budapest patriots. Among them were 25 women who were shoved into armored cars and rushed away. Attempts to trace them were still fruitless hours later.

The Central Workers' Council in the seething capital promptly called a general strike for Thursday—in defiance of the Red puppet regime protected by Soviet bayonets.

Citizens Furious

Never has this correspondent seen such an angry citizenry as Wednesday night. The fury is greater even than during the armed warfare that sparked the anti-Communist revolt on Oct. 23.

"Rusky, go home," was the cry of both women and men in the streets. "Kadar—go," was the shout against János Kadar, the Hungarian Red ruler with the aid of Soviet tank and infantry troops. "I even saw 'Kadar soldiers,'" the armed Hungarian soldiers faithful to the Red rulers, cry when Soviet tanks turned their treads toward ranks of marching women demonstrators.

Rifle Butts Used

No shots were fired. But rifle butts can cause a lot of damage.

(One report to Vienna said two bursts of machinegun fire were heard near the Kilian barracks. No casualties were reported.)

Soviet tank crews used the threat of their crushing tank treads to scatter more than 1,000 women mourning the death and deportation of their loved ones.

Swirl Near Legations

Demonstrations swirled outside the British, American and Indian legations after Soviet troops and armed Hungarian soldiers first broke up an attempt by the women to march to the statue of Sandor Petoefi, the Hungarian poet of the 1848 revolution.

The women carrying black mourning flags and Hungarian colors of red, white and green sought to put a wreath at the statue to commemorate the thousands of their countrymen slain in the revolt.

Three women finally were allowed to place the wreath at the statue, then Soviet tanks ringed the area.

50 Laid Off At Elgin; Further Cuts Discussed

Fifty of the 1,000 employees of the Elgin National Watch Company have received notice of an indefinite layoff to take effect within the next two weeks.

Richard Brandes, manager of the Lincoln plant, commented that further measure to handle lower production rates may mean additional layoffs or a possible shutdown of the entire plant during the Christmas holidays.

At present, the Christmas shutdown is being discussed by the National Watchmakers Union which represent a majority of the Elgin employees.

The company is now engaged in evaluating production schedules to handle lowered production rates and reduce inventories. The inventory reduction was termed "not normal," although Elgin has experienced year-end layoffs for the past three years.

Dixie Segregation Leader Arrested

White Citizen's Council Chief, 14 Others Nabbed In Tennessee

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—Federal officers arrested 15 persons on contempt charges Wednesday night in racial violence which had closed Clinton High School and officials quickly voted to reopen the integrated school.

The chairman of the White Citizens Council and five others were arraigned in Federal Court as U. S. Marshals and their deputies started a roundup of 16 persons accused of interfering with integration.

The Anderson County School Board decided shortly afterward to reopen the school on an integrated basis, setting next Monday as a target date.

Chairman R. G. Crossno said after the board meeting, "We desire to open the school as soon as feasible, but . . . we will not reopen the school until the federal and local authorities have had time to make it safe."

16th Sought

Federal officers fanned out and picked up 15 of those accused in short order. They still sought the 16th, who was reported to be a woman.

W. H. Till, chairman of the pro-segregation white council, and five others were arraigned before hearing were adjourned for the night by District Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor in nearby Knoxville. All denied the charges.

The officers who picked up Till said he was armed. He was taken to jail in handcuffs and his bond was set at $12,000.

Warrants for the 16 were issued by Taylor, under whose orders 12 Negroes were admitted to Clinton High this year. All were charged with violating an injunction Taylor issued last September against interfering with peaceful integration.

Second Time

The federal government stepped into the case for the second time after new racial disturbances which were reminiscent of those which followed the admission of 12 Negroes among more than 700 whites Aug. 27.

The latest disorders, including the beating of a minister outside the school and pushing of a teacher inside the school Tuesday, prompted closing of the school Tuesday "until further notice."

The others arraigned Wednesday night were:

Alonzo Block, unemployed preacher, bond $10,000; Lawrence J. Brantley, 50, unemployed, $10,000; William Brakebill, service station operator, $7,500; Clifford Carter, $3,000; and Jimmy Pierce, teen-ager, $2,500.

Till's bond was set at $12,000. The others in custody, who will be arraigned Thursday morning, were:

Zella Nelson, Thomas R. Sanders, Henson Nelson, Clyde Cook, Cleo Nelson, Chris Foust, John B. Long, J. C. Cooley and Raymond Wood.

All were accused of "acts of intimidation" against the Negro students and "acts of lawlessness" in violation of the injunction.

NANCY COPELAND

Norfolk Girl Activity Queen At University

Nancy Copeland of Norfolk was crowned Activity Queen at the University of Nebraska Wednesday night.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Copeland, she was introduced at the annual All University Fund Auction by Marilyn Heck of California, Mo., 1955 Activity Queen. Her attendants were Nan Carlson of Lincoln, Natalie Johnson of Fremont and Jacquie Miller of Omaha.

Miss Copeland, a sophomore in Teachers College, is a graduate of North Platte High School. In the queen competition, she represented the Builders, student service organization.

She also is a member of the Associated Women Students Board, women's governing body; the University Debate Squad; Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary scholastic society; and Delta Gamma sorority. She has a scholastic average of nearly 90 per cent.

The queen presentation was the highlight of the auction held to raise funds for All-University Fund, campus "Community Chest" organization. The new queen and other campus beauties, the football coaching staff, faculty members and sorority and fraternity pledge classes were among the "items" up for auction.

Resident Minister Robert Lacoste was also given full authority to prepare for new local elections throughout the revolt-torn North African area.

Britain May Ask New Dollar Loan

England Is Ready With Collateral

LONDON (AP) — Britain has served notice of intent to ask for a new dollar loan from the United States if more help becomes vital in the post-Suez economic crisis.

The British say the American government is ready to go along. But the deal as very tentatively envisaged—the British hope and expect it will never be necessary—would be something less than a magnificently altruistic gesture on the part of the United States.

Dollar for Dollar

The British plan would be to put up British-owned U. S. securities dollar for dollar as collateral for the dollars borrowed. A business-like rate of interest would be charged.

This is the essential meaning of Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan's statement Tuesday about using Britain's many millions of dollars worth of American securities to protect the British economy.

There is no intention to sell the vast bulk of these securities outright to raise cash.

The British government owns dollar securities worth from 750 million to a billion dollars.

In addition, it has—or until recently has had—60 million dollars worth of short-term U. S. government securities.

More than half of these short-term securities have now been sold, according to Macmillan's statement.

The chancellor indicated that the other half is about to be sold off as well.

Port Said Residents Defy Orders To Reopen Shops

... Woolworth Store Is Burned

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Defiant Egyptians burned down the Port Said Woolworth Store Wednesday when British-French military authorities tried to force reopening of all the city's shops.

A second mob ransacked a drugstore where the stock ranged from toothbrushes to shoes.

The imminent withdrawal of all British-French forces has stiffened Egyptian resistance against co-operation with them. Extremists apparently attacked the two stores to show what would happen to any merchants who obeyed the reopening order.

Service men barred While a large armada of shipping converged on the port to evacuate the troops, British-French headquarters barred the servicemen from patronizing all local businesses, even the peddlers. It announced that no more Egyptian currency would be issued to the soldiers for buying souvenirs and such.

The order was a crackdown against the local business community which closed shop tightly Tuesday, and even withdrew peddlers from the streets, in defiance of a

AT&T, CWA Pact Ready

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators Wednesday reached agreement on a new contract providing wage increases and other benefits for 25,000 long-distance telephone operators and employees in 42 states and Washington, D.C.

The terms were ironed out in a 23-hour bargaining session between the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the Communications Workers of America. They must be ratified by union members.

The company said the proposed contract provides these benefits: A weekly wage increase ranging from $2.50 to $3 for 10,500 operators and $3.50 to $5 for plant craftsmen. Salaries vary by geographical location.

An increase in starting minimums for long-distance operators of $2 to $4 a week, and $2 to $5 for plant craftsmen.

Starting wage minimums of $48 a week for operators in New York City, with pay rising to $69.50 in six years. New York craftsmen will start at $52 a week and receive $119 in six years.

The union failed to obtain a shortening of the work week from 40 to 35 hours.

Secretary of State Dulles personally assured ambassadors from the four Eastern nations of U. S. backing after they called to express continuing concern over Communist pressures inside Syria.

But Dulles gave the envoys no reason to hope, informants said, that the United States would change its present opposition to joining the pact, despite a new plea by Britain that it come in.

Nitro Blast Kills 2; 27 Are Hurt

EAST ALTON, Ill. (INS)—Two persons were killed, another was missing and 27 were injured Wednesday when a fire ripped through the Olin-Mathieson chemical plant in East Alton.

Two bodies were recovered from the fire but were so badly burned they could not be identified.

Listed as dead or missing were Gerald Dillard, 54, of Dorchester, Ill., William J. Schoenbaum, 61, who has a wife and son in Tucson, Ariz., and Floyd F. Wisnasky, 36, of Forest Homes, Ill.

The blast, which came while nitroglycerin was being loaded in a truck, shattered windows a mile away from the huge plant.

Many of the injured were reported suffering from cuts and shock.

Company guards refused to permit state police or newsmen to enter the grounds, claiming it to be government property.

Eyewitnesses reported the explosion sent a "huge red ball of fire" in the air, followed by dense black smoke. The fire reportedly raged out of control for more than an hour.

The blast occurred in the explosive division of the powder mill of the Olin-Mathieson plant which produces munitions among other products.

The plant was last rocked by a series of explosions in October, 1953, when two powder workers were killed and a third man suffered severe shock.

Wednesday night an explosion ripped the Olin-Mathieson plant in Niagara Falls, N. Y. One person was killed in the blast and four others injured.

Sidney Couple Unable To Collect Damages

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—A district court jury has ruled against George and Mollie Backer, Gering, in a suit to collect $10,000 damages from the city of Sidney.

The Backers, owners of a vacant lot near Sidney's new 14th street underpass, claimed they were damaged to the extent of $10,000 by construction of the subway. The city offered $250 in damages.

Deeper In The Mire

Britain served notice upon the United States that it will be unable to meet its interest payment of $82 million due on the closing day of 1956.

The news reports state that it will be up to Congress to determine Uncle Sam's course of action, some more fine hokum. There isn't anything that the American people can do about it if Britain finds it impossible to pay the interest installment. We do not sue in an international court to collect what is due us. We do not bring action in some American or British tribunal. We accept the facts for what they are and the default will not make a lot of people happy.

Yet at second glance, any thoughtful American can conclude only that we should be grateful to a staunch ally who bore the brunt of attack in an all-out war which saw cities and particularly the factories in those cities bombed and destroyed—whole communities reduced to rubble, necessitating rebuilding from the ground up.

We seem to be reliving some of the postwar years which followed World War I. This default of interest is on the settlement reached for lend-lease and interest due on a 1946 loan of $34 billion. In an atmosphere of mounting austerity in the tight little islands, there promises to be little Christmas cheer in Britain in this winter of 1956. It can be brushed aside, if that is the way the individual feels about it, as Britain's hard luck. And then again, we can appreciate the terrific struggle Western Europe faces to keep its head above water. We may bemoan the struggle but at least we have an interest in it.

The Answer Is Not Easy

Fearful of a denial of valuable service fifteen members of the executive board of the South Platte United Chamber of Commerce have addressed an appeal to Gov. Victor Anderson asking that as he wields his tax cutting scalpel he guide the blade so that it does not re-sect Nebraska University provisions for the proposed irrigation experiment station in the South Platte area.

Said the board: "We know that tax funds supporting the university, which in turn has guided the development of irrigation areas, have resulted in production and property gains that have meant hundreds of dollars for every dollar invested in the university."

The board also asserted that irrigation development in the Tri-County area has resulted in property value increases for tax purposes that would more than offset the tax funds asked by the university."

There is no gainsaying the fact that conservation and management of Nebraska's water resources compose the important gateway toward a more productive more prosperous Nebraska. Moreover, successful agricultural guidance that has shown Nebraska farmers how to get 200 bushels of corn where 40 bushels was once considered good is a service of inestimable value.

There is also that austere countervailing fact. Nebraska is descending into an economic trough which demands all practical restraint in the levying of taxes. It is the usual dilemma—the need to maintain valuable services against the need for less public spending. Something must give. Whether that something spells the long range good or whether it spells decay rests with the judgment of those who have accepted the responsibility of managing Nebraska.

Not Time Wasted

Members of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association divided their time at Sidney this week contemplating proposals for on-the-spot selling in foreign markets and listening to the details of a five point improvement program by Rep. Clifford Hope of Kansas.

It was an interesting meeting full of a variety of suggestions, but to an outsider, a casual observer, the burden of what went on resembled

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Adlai Stevenson has called it quits in terms of personal ambition to become President of the United States. He was a reluctant candidate of his party in 1952—eager in 1956. Each time he suffered a crushing defeat. A good fighting man, those who knew Stevenson best never had any doubts about his future plans when the American people buried him politically in early November of 1956.

Naturally in announcing that he will not be a candidate for his party's nomination in 1960, Stevenson at the same time voices a deep, continuing interest in the affairs of his party and of his nation. He will do what he can to help. He expresses the belief that the role of the Democrats in the next few years, or during Ike's second term as President, shall be that of staunch opposition in all matters where opposition seems justified. There is where the Democrats split ranks. They are not of one mind, by any means, about Ike. In the Deep South, conservative, no longer a one-party region, so it is said, there is no genuine understanding between the southern and northern liberal Democrat. It is unlikely that the Democrats are ready for the step they must take. Until the party turns away from Senate Floor Leader Lyndon Johnson, the Texan, it cannot expect to figure nationally. Johnson may be cock-o'-the-walk in Texas but his program as Democratic floor leader in the Senate did not strengthen the Democrats. If anything, he hurt his party and hurt it badly in his persistence of support for President Eisenhower.

We doubt that the isolationism which followed the first world war will ever take root in this country again. Nevertheless in the Middle West and possibly in other sections of the United States there is a feeling that while Uncle Sam must devote a great deal of energy and treasure to the international scene, our affairs here at home are becoming increasingly important. Looking back, we think Adlai Stevenson's decision to place major emphasis on foreign affairs cost him more votes than any other phase of his campaign. Time will disclose whether he was right in his discussion of continuing H-bomb tests. And time may also come up with the answer to the draft.

Adlai Stevenson is a cheerful loser. There is no whining, no moaning from him. He accepts the verdict of his countrymen gracefully and if he has any sore spots, he is managing to hide them from the American people fully. The next question is, who will lead the Democrats? Will it be young Kennedy of Massachusetts who came from out of nowhere, so to speak, to a position of prominence and influence within his party? Will it be Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate? Or will it be Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, or one of these many fine young governors who have come to the front as Democrats? A second defeat, deeply in debt, and with the necessity of formulating a congressional program, a party which under Roosevelt ran roughshod over everything in its path, we have the notion that Adlai Stevenson will prove much more successful in helping another Democrat than he was in helping himself.

Meanwhile, the Deep South has been in the saddle long enough. It and its leaders have been more of a handicap to the Democrats than in aid. As for the Stevenson story, one of the more enchanting in contemporary American politics, possibly more arresting in defeat than in victory, the chief actor has written a record. It may require 10 years to prove how right or wrong he was.

U.S. Economy Poses Problems

WASHINGTON—It isn't featured in the headlines, but Eisenhower advisers are just about as much worried over domestic fiscal policy as they are about international war jitters.

U.S. government bonds have now dropped to the lowest point since the collapse of World War I liberty bonds in the Harding administration. Simultaneously, the government is now paying the highest interest rate since the bank holiday at the end of the Hoover administration in 1933—3.174 per cent.

This has had several serious economic effects:

1. A mistrust of government credit which could become dangerous.
2. Curtailment of credit to small business. The Eisenhower administration has been receiving such a deluge of complaints that the office of small business of the Commerce Department, after three years of hand-sitting, is finally going out to big cities to hold regional meetings.
3. The big banks are making more money than ever, thanks to high interest rates. On the last issue of government paper at 3.174 per cent, the banks were able to borrow at the Federal Reserve for 3 per cent, then turn around and use this money to buy government paper for a profit of one-sixth of 1 per cent.
4. The little investor who bought government bonds in good faith is now stuck.

INFILTRATION HITS LITTLE FELLOW

Here's what's happened to the small investor. He bought Series E bonds after listening to the treasury's appeal of patriotism, and he must keep them "locked in" for 10 years in order to get the 3 per cent interest rate. They are not negotiable. Also, they are taxable. Meanwhile the market has dropped on some bonds and he is left holding the bag. Municipal bonds which are tax exempt are generally higher. They pay interest rates of as high as 4½ per cent. At the same time, prices of food,

Aussies Think Us A Bit Daft

MELBOURNE (INS) — "Hello, may I have room service, please?" "Do you wish your room cleaned?"

"No, I'd like to order some breakfast."

"Oh, then you want food service. Just a sec. Here you are . . ."

"How about a pineapple with your fresh fruit?"

"Pineapple? Why, that would be fine, thank you."

The egg came first (which may solve one of the riddles of the ages). It was alone.

"Don't let it get cold," the nice waitress said.

"But the toast, and something to put the egg in . . ."

"Toast? Oh, that'll be along later. Don't you worry. And what do you mean, 'something to put the egg in'?"

"A cup, or something."

"But you should eat it right out of the shell. Everyone does."

Glancing furtively from side to side we slurped it like a nest robber, we did—and in time not only the toast came but also the fresh fruit.

"Chef had the devil's own time with the fruit, cutting it all up in these fine little pieces. Chef says that's the way you Americans like it, just like you like eggs with your steak and the nice little lettuce and tomato salad on your bykon and aigs. Chef says sometimes he thinks you're all a bit daft."

"Could I have some water, some ice water, please?"

"Iced water? Whatever for?"

"To drink. You know, with my meal."

"With you MEAL? I've never heard of such a thing. I'll try, however."

Ten minutes later, the phone. It is the manager.

"Now, about this iced water. Is it true, you want it?"

"Please . . ."

It, too, came. A pitcher of ice.

"Perhaps you can do the rest to it," the manager said, like a busy bartender confronted with an order for a pousee cafe on the rocks.

They're wonderful, the Australians. Good-tempered, friendly, eager to please even the sometimes demanding Olympics visitor, and proud.

A Melbourne reporter asked my friend Bob Ruark how he liked the city, the last time Bob was here.

"It's a hell of a town," Ruark enthused.

The expression did not sit well at all. The paper duly printed Bob's statement, then editorialized:

"Go home, Ruark, if that's what you feel about us."

Adlai Remains A Party Influence

WASHINGTON—Adlai Stevenson's disavowal of future political ambition was framed in consultation with his principal campaign aides. They were agreed that it was a necessary formality and would safeguard his future influence within the party.

Stevenson also debated with trusted friends the extent to which he ought to engage in political activity at present. His decision to serve on the advisory committee, which the Democratic national committee voted last week to establish, is at least a partial commitment to a fight over the party's future.

That committee will inevitably land in the midst of the factional party struggle. It is already heavy with people who want the party to take a straightforward, liberal stand in contrast to Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson's expressed determination to hold it to the middle way with President Eisenhower.

Stevenson's major interest continues to be foreign affairs and what he believes to be the imperative need for new and creative policy to meet the present dangers. He will continue to travel and to write on this topic as he did during the interval between his presidential campaigns.

No alternatives have yet tempted him away from resumption of the practice of Law. Fellow-alumni of Princeton who would like to see him succeed Dr. Harold Doods as president of that great university have been doing some research on that project. Dr. Doods retires next year.

But the Stevenson for president of Princeton backers have come up with the interesting scuttlebutt that last year Princeton trustees made a more or less firm decision not to choose a new president who is over 50. Stevenson is 56. The rueful observation of his friends is that it is unfortunate the electorate does not share the Princeton trustees' views about the proper age for presidents.

Even though he is returning to Chicago law practice, Stevenson will have ways of making his views on foreign policy felt in the Congress. The Senate Foreign relations Committee Democrats include his close associates and admirers who will want his comments and counsel.

Such men as Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, who ranks just behind the committee chairman, and Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, share Stevenson's view that Russian penetration of the Middle East is a major defeat for the United States.

It is altogether probable that a number of senators will move to investigate how this came about and what is being done to counter it. (Copyright, 1956, By UF Syndicate, Inc.)

Are Diamonds Always A Girl's Best Friend?

By MONA B. PARKER

Elvis Presley's hit song isn't anything so very new, says the Lyon Mirror-Sun. The words are different, but the tune was recognized as one in use as far back as the Civil War. It's the old "Army Blue" song referring to the blue uniforms of the North. It's a favorite trick, and one that many writers today use, of reaching back a couple of decades or more for a good melody and adding new lyrics. "Such is Elvis' top hit."

Gale Rowe of the Madison Star wonders what has happened to an institution of another day. It was a grimy profession, to be sure, but an honored one — that of chimney sweep—and judging from the number of trips the Madison fire department has been making lately, it might be well to revive the chore. But where can you find anyone these days who will clean out a chimney, Mr. Rowe asks. "The job has gone the way of high-buttoned shoes."

Since Grandma won the washer and dryer, wrote a columnist for the Greeley Citizen, "we eat breakfast food to name a pony, buy candy bars to name another pony, wash our hair with contest shampoo, wash ourselves with contest soap, eat cookies made out of contest chocolate, put contest molasses in our beans, contest syrup on our pancakes and bake with contest flour. If we never even get back postage, we'll have had a lot of fun, because we have to eat and wash, anyway."

A David Citian likes his Sunday morning recreation, but not to the common exclusion of church services. He manages to arrange a time for each, even though there is sometimes evidence of a slight overlapping of the two. Recently he went duck hunting, but took his go-to-meetin' clothes along so he could change and go directly to church. However, he forgot the cuff links for his shirt. Undaunted, according to the Banner Press, "with typical American ingenuity he devised cuff fasteners from some available fish cord."

The Loup Valley Queen lists answers to a repeated inquiry—the symbols for the various wedding anniversaries—first, paper—fourth, books—seventh, copper, bronze or brass—eighth, electrical appliances — the eleventh, steel — 35th, jade or coral—45th, sapphire—55th, emerald—"and when you celebrate your 60th, the take is diamonds. But would diamonds be a girl's best friend at that age?"

Rev. C. E. Caskey was substitute editor for H. M. Crilly on the Superior Express and the presses were just beginning to roll, when someone caught a typo which, had it gone through, Editor Crilly says, "Friend Caskey never would have lived down."

It concerned a young farmer who spent several days in the hospital with a "pinched nerve."

E. L. Cline of the Beaver City Times-Tribune was severely taken to task by Jack Lough of the Albion News on the former's slogan that his publication is the only newspaper printed and circulated in the Beaver Valley.

Both newsmen have a justifiable claim, as it worked out, since the one publishes in the Furnas County Beaver Valley and the other in the Boone County Beaver Valley —and Mr. Cline tosses in for good measure and conciliation: "Speaking of the two Beaver Valleys, I've eaten many a delicious cat-fish caught in either stream."

The Springfield Herald points out a rather depressing end-of-the-year reminder: "Leap year is fast drawing to a close. You gals better get busy. It's four more long years before another comes your way, and you will be four years older. It could be too late."

Questions And Answers

Wymore, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: Will you please supply the following information:

How many people were employed by the State of Nebraska in 1946 and at present?

How many motor cars were used and paid for by the state in 1946? What are the present figures?

What was the enrollment of the state university in 1946? What is it now?

What was the cost of the university in 1946? What is it now?

How much money is taken in by the university from tuition?

How many cars are used by the university and paid for by state taxpayers?

I see Gov. Anderson is trying to hold down the budget. Unless he gets some help the pressure groups will have their way.

The university professors are better paid and are living better than ever and if they are not satisfied they can easily be replaced. Neither they nor any state official are indispensable.

If the chancellor of the state university cannot conduct the school on what he now gets from the state together with the increased tuition I think he had better talk it over with the controller. It costs a student as much to go to the university as it does to attend some of the other Nebraska colleges which receive no state tax money, yet originally it was supposed to be a free educational institution.

Farmers and property owners are being driven out of their homes and off the farms by ever increasing taxes. Some farmers are paying $500 and more on a quarter section of land and that together with other expenses are driving them into bankruptcy.

Our educational system has gotten into a mess, thousands of dollars are squandered on unnecessary roads, the people gradually are having taken away from them the right to conduct their own schools and government. Yet the state goes blithely on increasing salaries, throwing away money on unnecessary roads, bulging school budgets while driving people into bankruptcy.

Every state legislature only increases the cost of our county and state governments — never a reduction.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

It may be you won't ever see him again,

But the boys of today quickly grow to be men.

It may be you won't hear of him doing well

Or remember his name, but you never can tell.

And he may be a man you'll be proud that you know

Britain's 82 Million Debt To U.S. 'Probably' Will Be Waived

Sen. Langer Balks At Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several senators said Wednesday Congress probably will agree to waive payment of 82 million dollars in interest due from Great Britain, but Sen. Langer (R-ND) balked at the idea.

Britain, running short of gold and dollar reserves and otherwise hard-pressed in its Middle East venture, has asked for the waiver to help protect the stability of the pound sterling.

State Department officials, while expressing sympathy for Britain's need, have said it seemed to be up to Congress whether to approve the waiver.

Another Gift

Sen. Langer said in a statement:

"If this interest should be waived, we would be making another gift to England of 82 million dollars for declaring a war on Egypt. . . . The German leaders who declared World War II were hanged for declaring war."

Earlier, expressions of a sympathetic attitude toward the request came from Sens. Hayden (D-Ariz.) chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee; George (D-Ga.), retiring chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee; Wiley (R-Wis.), senior Republican on Foreign Relations; Lehman (D-NY) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

Sen. Malone (R-Nev.) commented that the British weren't going to pay it in any event, so it's "a silly thing to argue about."

IBM Office Schedules Open House

An open house will be held at the new International Business Machine offices, 601 So. 12th, at 10:00 a.m. Thursday.

The building, a two-floor basementless structure with 10,000 square feet of floor space, cost about $160,000 for construction, exclusive of land and fixtures.

Howard Linch of Lincoln, who is associated with the American Lightning Rod Co. here, owns the building and IBM is the lessee.

Enamel Surface

The exterior surface of the building is vision vent enamel. A parking lot of 9,000 square feet is provided on the lot.

Hazen and Robinson were the architects and M. W. Anderson & Co., general contractors.

Mayor Bennett Martin will cut the ribbon which will be held by former University of Nebraska football star Elmer Dohrman, now regional IBM sales manager for the western half of the United States.

26 Employees

IBM employs 26 persons in Lincoln with a payroll of about $133,000. Wally Knievel, formerly of New York City, has been the Lincoln branch manager for the past four years.

The IBM offices were formerly in the Trust Building.

Grade A Milk Law Sought By State Dairy Association

OMAHA (AP)—The Nebraska Dairy Industries Assn. voted to ask the legislature to make it mandatory that all milk or other liquid milk products sold for human consumption be grade A.

The association will also seek legislation to require that all such products be pasteurized.

These laws will be sought in the interest of health protection, Leslie K. Chaffin of Norfolk, new president of the Association, said. Other officers elected as the annual convention ended are L. K. Muller, Omaha, vice president, and Arell J. Wasson, Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

New directors named are Robert Miller, Holdrege; Oscar Zinsmaster, Omaha; M. L. Archer, Grand Island. Directors re-elected were L. E. Liebers Lincoln, and Fred J. Price, Beatrice.

The association voted to set up a University of Nebraska four-year scholarship for a high school senior planning to major in dairy industry processing.

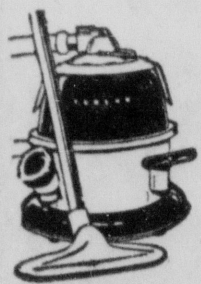

The Nebraska Dairy Boosters Assn., meeting with the NDIA, elected James N. Brennan, Omaha, president; Fred Garrison, Omaha, vice president, and Jack Exby, Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

Water Troubles Spur Secession Movement

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP)—A movement for eight northern counties to secede from California and form a 49th state is under way.

Sponsors said they would name the state Shasta and ask Congress to approve statehood along with Hawaii and Alaska. They say the rest of California is after too much of their water and other resources.

A similar secession movement 15 years ago fizzled out.

Leaders of the new movement to break away eight of the state's 58 counties are Beverly Mason, 50, a real estate property manager; and Patrick Hanratty, 35, Mount Shasta department store manager.

They telegraphed Rep. Clair Engle, (D-Calif.) who represents 19 counties in northern and western California:

"Secession movement under way embracing area which will include major part of your district, plus others. Action based on aggression on part of Southern California regarding water and other resources.

"When and where can you appear to outline federal steps of admission to statehood? Can separate bill be presented in this session of Congress to gain statehood for Shasta as well as Alaska and Hawaii?"

Hanratty said he was provisional secretary of the new state. Mason is chairman of the secession organization.

Hanratty said the sponsors wanted to bring in the counties of Siskiyou, Modoc, Del Norte, Humboldt, Shasta, Trinity, Lassen and Plumas.

Finance Company

Western Finance Company of Ainsworth has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state's office. Authorized capitalization is $75,000 and incorporators are James W. Quesenberry, Elbert Mundhenke and Paul Mintken, all of Ainsworth.

POSTCARD

This is midsummer in Australia. By guide book, by seasonal custom, and by golly, I'm cold! We do our midsummer dreaming under blankets.

It is as cold as a banker's heart each day at the Melbourne Olympics. You could ice champagne up here in the pressbox.

It is a shocker to the American press who read the guide books and came equipped with aloha shirts and shorts. "Melbourne in summer has a mild and full bloom at this attractive season."

Well, it is true the flowers are in bloom tra la. But even a polar bear would have to warm his fingers to pick them, it is that chill.

The flowers apparently have read the guide books and are doing their best. They are blooming and it is the romantic season.

When a flower falls in love, it goes simply mad. It flings pollen around like confetti. In consequence many of us are down with colds. And those who don't have colds are dying of hay fever.

However, no season is without its silver lining. As all Australians are convinced, Americans live on a measured diet of miracle drugs. We are not disappointing them.

"You chaps live like walking chemists shops, eh?" said an Australian journalist.

"We have pills for everything," I admitted. "If you care to drop by my room I will show you the green happy pills. We have pills for hangovers. Tranquilizing drugs known as don't-give-a-cuss pills. Wake-up-and-die pills. Keep-the-copy-shorter-and-funnier pills. Bennies for the big sleep."

"Could I have a happy-slappy pill?"

I slipped him a tranquilizer I just happened to have on me. The hands we stretch across the sea are filled with miltons.

If we could stay here long enough, Australia would be so tranquil you could hardly get a kangaroo to jump. Australians generally stay tranquil on bitter beer. We are changing all that. We put pills in the beer.

The first local tranquilizing drugs hit Australia recently. But Australians have had little need of soothing syrup.

There was no TV. The bars closed at 6 p.m. Advertising was just another business proposition. Not a Madison Avenue witch doctors session.

The country stayed loose on horse racing, cricket, beer and pink gin.

That is all changed now. Now we have TV and the caterwaul commercial. The ad men to the long martini lunch and the crystal ball act. Bars are staying open in Sydney until 10 p.m. The country overrun with American tourists.

This country needs tranquility pills. Next year we export ulcers.

The American weight lifters are a curious sight and people come from miles around to see them at feeding time. It is feeding time most of the day. The weight lifters are constantly opening little cans of vitamin vegetables.

There was so much talk about American miracle diets that everybody was trying to get in the American dining room at Olympic Village. They were somewhat disappointed to find American teams eating standard steaks.

I think they really expected it all to come out of a spray gun.

We checked the Russian dining room the other day. To find what miracles are coming out of Moscow. But the Russian chef was very starchy and stiff about it all.

"We eat just like the Americans," he said.

Maybe there is some political capital in that. Maybe.

Three Richardson School Districts Proposed In Plan

FALLS CITY, Neb. — The Richardson County redistricting committee has submitted a plan to the state school redistricting committee for merging all Richardson County school districts into three districts.

One district would include Falls City and the southeast third of the county; another would include Verdon, Stella, Stubert, Barada and generally the northeast and central areas of the county; the third district would include Humboldt, Dawson and the west part of the county.

The state committee has scheduled a hearing on the plan for Dec. 11. In the event the state group approves the proposal, it will be submitted to the people of the county for approval or rejection.

Lot Of Licenses

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — There were 6,721,409 driver's licenses in California as of mid-1956.

Of the total, 6,309,372 were operators' licenses and 412,037 were chauffeurs' permits.

Parker 61

The only fountain pen that fills itself
by itself—it has no moving parts

Unique as a pen and as a gift, is the newly-created Parker 61. It is unlike any other pen you have ever seen or used—an inspired invention.

As you can tell at a glance, it has classic beauty, the elegance of great simplicity. And great simplicity marks its operation, too. For the Parker 61 pen fills itself by itself in 10 seconds—no pumping, squeezing, twisting, nothing. Its ink capacity is conveniently oversize. And it has no moving part to get out of order.

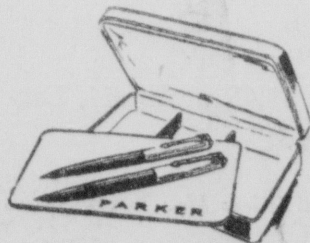

The Parker 61, with its frankly revolutionary capillary ink system, writes effortlessly, clearly, always—even on a high-flying plane.

In its first Christmas Season, this is the distinguished gift for those friends who appreciate the new, the unusual—quite flattering to them and to you. You have a choice of rich colors and gleaming caps—all strikingly beautiful. All pens are available with matching pencils. The Parker 61 is $20.00 or more.

The Parker 61, alone among fountain pens, fills itself by itself. It fills itself cleanly—through the end opposite the point. It's done by capillary action in just 10 seconds—the shining point need never be dipped in ink.

SALES TAX LIGHTENS BURDEN

... For Farmers

Adoption of a sales tax would shift the state tax burden from rural areas, according to a study by Dr. Edward B. Schmidt, economics professor at the University of Nebraska.

The yearly tax bill for the average farm resident would decrease $12 and the average urban dweller's taxes would rise $7 under a sales tax equivalent to the present state property tax.

A sales tax yielding $25.5 million—as the present 8.18-mill property tax does—would amount to about $18 per capita.

$30 And $11

Rural residents pay an average of $30 and urban residents an average of $11 to make up that same total under the present property tax.

Dr. Schmidt said "it is not within the scope of this study to determine whether a shift in tax burden from rural to urban residents would be desirable."

But "it seems appropriate," he said, "to direct attention" to these facts:

1. "County property tax payments on a per capita basis, even after the shift, would remain much greater in rural than in urban communities."

2. "The per capita incomes of the farm population are somewhat less than those of urban residents."

Opposite Trends

3. "The trend of per capita non-farm incomes is slightly upward while farm residents constitute just 35 per cent of the population of the state while so-called farm property constitutes 57 per cent of the total exclusive of 'utility' property such as railroads and pipelines."

Grant County farm residents would have the largest average decrease—$66—under a sales tax. The average increase for townspeople in the county would be $6.

Increases For All

Only in two counties would taxes increase for both rural and urban residents. The average increases would be $1 for rural and $3 for urban Lancaster County residents and $2 for rural and $9 for urban dwellers in Sarpy County.

Taxes would decrease for all residents of two other counties. There would be a rural decrease of $26 and an urban decrease of $7 in Hooker County, while taxes would go down $2 for farm residents and $6 for townspeople in Nuckolls County.

Dr. Schmidt also compared a 2 per cent sales tax with an equivalent property tax which would yield $31 million. The per capita sales tax bill would be $22, while a property tax raising $31 million would require an average payment of $37 from rural residents and an average of $13 from city dwellers.

The comparison showed as a rule "the per capita decrease in tax burden for farm population is roughly twice as great as the increase in the per capita tax burden for non-farm population," Dr. Schmidt said.

"This result is consistent with the fact that the farm population is only one-half as great as the non-farm population," Dr. Schmidt pointed out.

Dr. Schmidt said his findings result from the co-operative efforts of several tax authorities including representatives of the Nebraska Education Association and the Nebraska Citizens Council, organizations which have expressed opposing points of view on the sales tax question in the past.

U. Of N. Debate Teams Win 19, Lose 18 In Three Tournaments

Debate teams from the University of Nebraska collected 19 wins and 18 losses in three recent debate and discussion tournaments.

Jere McGaffey of Nebraska City and Richard Andrews of Kansas City, Mo., were rated third among 68 teams taking part in a tournament at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Nancy Copeland of Norfolk and Sara Jones of Lincoln, who tied for fourth, made up one of the eight teams in the quarter finals. The two Nebraska teams won eight of their 13 debates.

At the University of Iowa, teams composed of Barbara Bacon of Kearney and Sandra Reimers of Lincoln and Donald Montgomery and Kenneth Snider, both of Lincoln, won five of eight debates. Montgomery and Snider each received excellent ratings in discussion.

Five teams won six out of 16 debates at the Wayne State Teachers College tournament. Participants were Dick Shugrue and Melvyn Eichleberry, both of Lincoln; Marial Wright of Scottsbluff and Carol Anderson of Lincoln; David Rhoades of Lincoln and George Moyer of Madison; Curtis Scoville of Fremont and Jerry Sellentin of Norfolk, and Connie Hurst of Hastings and Joan Carroll of Kearney.

Town Talk

THE TALK this morning still is about the Junior League Follies—and the cabaret party at Hotel Cornhusker following the Wednesday night performance—Those pretty girls in costume all were members of the Cabaret committee and if you were on hand you recognized them as Mrs. Robert Stein, chairman of the committee—Mrs. Irvin Rosewell, assistant chairman; Mrs. Allie Prouty—and Mrs. Jerry Druliner (Tish Swanson). If you were lucky you also recognized the targets for the hoop-throwing contest—but maybe you weren't lucky.

Anyway the Junior League Follies is over and done with for no longer, we hope, than another year—but time will tell.

Personally, while we think the members of the Junior League deserve the utmost credit for their labors our orchids go to the husbands who cooperated so completely that the show was a howling success—literally and figuratively.

We can't leave the Follies, however, without first disclosing the midnight revelation at the cabaret party—the names of the two Junior Leaguers who tied for top ticket selling honors. They were Mrs. Reg Davies and Mrs. Larry McKee (Joan Carveth) who sold 75 tickets each. The prize for each is a week for two at the Gulf Hills Dude Ranch and Country Club, Ocean Springs, Miss., any time within a year—

FROM now on all thoughts will be directed towards the holidays—and holiday parties. We hear that on Friday evening the members of the Mr. and Mrs. Dancing Club will be dining and dancing at Hotel Lincoln when the holiday theme will be introduced in all of the appointments. Guest couples at the party will include Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuska of Columbus, formerly of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hamilton Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Dutton.

WE'VE had some homecomers on our mind for a couple of days—Dr. Ordella Geisler and Miss Halcyon Allsman who returned recently from a holiday spent in Mexico City.

Cancel Meeting

The Alpha Chi Omega alumnae meeting scheduled for Thursday evening, Dec. 6, has been cancelled.

We Hear That

Mr. R. I. (Dick) Coyle will be leaving Lincoln Friday on the way to Honolulu, Hawaii, where he will be spending the Christmas holidays with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spangler, and their family.

Celebrates Silver Anniversary

Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated its 25th anniversary on Wednesday evening when members and former members of the chapter, met for an anniversary banquet at Hotel Cornhusker.

Serving as toastmistress, Miss Thelma Ormesher, president, gave the welcoming address. Mrs. Howard J. Walters, who joined the chapter in 1936, spoke on the topic, "Looking Back." Mrs. Don Dickinson concluded the program with a talk on "My Year in Lambda." The traditional secret sister gift exchange was held after the program.

On the program committee were Mrs. Glen Herbert and Miss Ruth Goodman, Mrs. Stanley Bird and Mrs. William Book-

Orion Club

Members of the Orion Toastmistress Club met Tuesday afternoon for a luncheon and program at the Officers Club at the Lincoln Air Force Base. Topic Mistress was Mrs. Louis G. Thorpe, and Mrs. D. C. Hesse served as Toastmistress.

The first portion of the program consisted of a question and answer period on Christmas, and participating were Mrs. Hale Hudson, Mrs. Frank Goetz, Mrs. Robert Murphy, and Mrs. William Heffel. Following this, Mrs. D. M. Grimwood spoke on the topic, "Mexican Christmas Customs," and "Christmas in France" was presented by Mrs. Peter Evolga. General evaluator of the program was Mrs. Alex Currie, and the individual evaluators were Mrs. Robert Hoffman and Mrs. P. J. Bick.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Members of the Lincoln chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae will meet on Saturday, Dec. 8, at 6:30 o'clock for their Christmas buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Frank Henzlik. Assisting Mrs. Henzlik as hostesses will be Mrs. Madison Brewer, Mrs. DeWitt G. Barber, Mrs. Dale K. Hayes, Mrs. Charles Parks, Mrs. Gilbert Sechrist, and Miss Pearl Schaaf.

Following the Christmas program, which will be presented by Mrs. John D. Blyth, a talent auction of home baked foods and hand made articles will be held.

AAUW Honors Guest

The members of the Lincoln Branch of the American Association of University Women entertained at luncheon on Tuesday at the University Club to honor Dr. Blanche H. Dow, president of Cottey College, Nevada, Mo; first vice-president of the American Association of University Women, and treasurer of the International Federation of University Women.

Following the luncheon Dr. Dow spoke on the topic "Is Higher Education a Privilege or an Adjunct to Luxurious Living." Included among the many points Dr. Dow made during her speech was the thought that women possess a reluctance to yield those things with which they have grown familiar.

Officers of the Nebraska organization of the AAUW who were present at the luncheon included Dr. Leona Failor of Kearney, first vice-president, and Mrs. Charles Dunn of Fremont, second vice-president.

To Be Honored

In celebration of their 68th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. James H. Schilling will be honored at a family dinner this evening at their home. Included in the guest list will be Mr. and Mrs. Schilling's sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale S. Schilling, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Schilling and Mr. and Mrs. Royd Schilling; and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frickey.

Mr. and Mrs. Schilling, both natives of Meyersdale, Pa., were married at Shickley, Neb., in 1888 and resided there until 1920 when they came to Lincoln where they have resided since that time.

SUBURBIA

The spirit of Christmas is beginning to permeate the suburban scene in all of our areas this week, and our Eastborough neighborhood is no exception. We also have some news of trips, and a bon voyage party.

T-Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Brinkman were among the guests last night of a surprise party in honor of S-Sgt. Roger Rohr. The 20 guests descended on the Rohr residence in farewell courtesy to Sgt. and Mrs. Rohr, who will be leaving for France in January.

Leaving Eastborough this Friday for a week-end visit to Carroll, Ia. are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rust and their son, Jimmy. The Rust family will be visiting Mrs. Rust's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Smith, and Mr. Rust's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rust.

Mrs. Donald Shilling and her two daughters left Eastborough on a trip the first of this week. Donna and Mary will be visiting grandmother and grandfather Shilling in Bass Lake, Ind., while their mother is visiting her brother in Detroit, Mich.

Turning to the Christmas scene we understand that Mrs. Kenneth Talbot will be entertaining 12 guests at a Christmas pin-ochle party and dessert supper at her home on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11.

We learn this morning that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boyce and their son, Roger, will be spending the Christmas holidays out of town this year. On Sunday, Dec. 23, the family will have Christmas dinner with Mr. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Boyce in Wayne, and on Christmas day Mrs. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Holmes, will be host and hostess to the family.

Soviets Block U.S. Military Convoy Leaving Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet army Wednesday blocked a U.S. military convoy leaving West Berlin. The move raised fears of another Soviet squeeze on Allied road and rail links with this Communist-encircled city.

The U.S. Army said its weekly supply convoy turned back to West

Berlin after Russian road guards imposed new restrictions on its free run along the superhighway to West Germany.

West Berlin lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany and its lifelines to the west are the superhighway, one railroad and three air corridors.

The Russians halted the 10-truck convoy at their Dreilinden highway checkpoint on the West Berlin sector border. They confronted the convoy commander, Maj. Daniel L. Melvin, of Fayetteville, N.C., with new demands for identification papers and the right to search the trucks.

Melvin refused to yield to the Soviet demands, an Army statement said. Acting on previous orders, he took the convoy back to West Berlin.

It was the first time the Russians had obliged an Allied truck convoy to return to West Berlin since Russia's all-out blockade of the city in 1948.

U.S. Army headquarters here did not state what action it is contemplating, but a U.S. protest to the Soviets is considered a certainty.

West Berlin officials said the Russians were not raising any new bars to the movement of German civilian trucks on the superhighway. These trucks bring the bulk of West Berlin's food supply from West Germany.

Only last week the Russians imposed similar curbs on free Allied rail traffic in and out of Berlin.

The Russians complained the Allied military trains were carrying unauthorized persons and demanded presentation of new identification papers. When the Allies rejected this, the Reds turned back a British train to West Berlin and delayed American trains.

The United States, Britain and France have protested, and negotiations now are proceeding with the Russians.

$4,000 Plus Safe Taken From Bar

OMAHA (AP)—A safe containing $4,000 was missing Wednesday following a burglary at the Hickory Bar, Omaha.

Police said entrance was gained by forcing metal bars over a rear window.

The burglars also smashed the coin box on an amusement machine and ransacked the liquor room.

The Hickory Bar figured in the news in October when Richard Broyles, 39 the manager, was an alleged kidnap victim. Missing at that time from the safe was $3,400 in cash. Broyles has not been found, nor has $3,400 in cash.

Going to move? Then notify the Circulation Dept. so you won't miss your paper. Be sure to give both old and new address.

Sec. Dulles Reported 'Recovered'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department, putting the damper on reports that Secretary Dulles would resign, announced Wednesday he has recovered completely from his cancer operation and is fit for "full resumption" of his duties.

Dulles, 68, underwent surgery a month ago for the removal of a cancerous section of his large intestine. He has been back at his desk since Monday.

Wednesday Lincoln White, State Department press officer, read the following statement to newsmen: "Secretary Dulles has been re-examined by his attending surgeons and internist, who found his general condition excellent. He has made a complete and full recovery from his recent surgery and is now fit for full resumption of his normal duties."

The statement came from Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton and Dr. A. D. Daughton.

Heaton, commanding officer of the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center here, performed the surgery Nov. 3. He was assisted by Daughton, Dulles' personal physician in Washington.

The secretary's serious operation immediately gave rise to speculation that he would bow out of the Eisenhower administration as it started its second term.

The announcement came as Dulles prepared to fly to Paris Saturday for the semiannual gathering of leaders of the North Atlantic Treaty nations.

MRS. LOWNEY FOUND DEAD FROM GUNSHOT

Mrs. Luella Leota Lowney, 59, of 2128 B died Wednesday from a self-inflicted gun wound, according to Deputy Sheriff Bill Johnson, who acted as coroner.

Mrs. Lowney was pronounced dead on arrival at a Lincoln hospital.

Johnson said the woman fired three shots from a .38-caliber pistol, the third entering her chest. The others lodged in the wall and ceiling of the bathroom of her home.

The shots were heard by the landlord, who found Mrs. Lowney on the floor in the bathroom of her apartment.

Mrs. Lowney was the widow of Michael Lowney, who died in 1937. Born near Elmwood, she had lived in Lincoln most of her life.

Funeral services will be held Friday, 2:30 p.m., at Ropers, Rev. Clyde Decker officiating. Burial will be in Calvary.

She is survived by a daughter, Ruth Lowney of 2128 B.

Commissioners Will Named New Treasurer

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Cheyenne county board of commissioners will meet Saturday to select a new county treasurer to succeed Herbert Stevens who died last Sunday. Stevens had been treasurer for 14 years.

Brooklyn's Bid To Get Phillies' Ashburn Is Rejected

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—While the higher classification minor leagues were drafting 36 players at a cost of $156,750 Wednesday, major league executives were getting down to serious trade talk at the annual minor league meetings.

Although the only deal consummated thus far has been the eight-player transaction between Detroit and Kansas City, officials were looking forward to one of the most active trade sessions in years.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts, whose Cincinnati Redlegs have been dickering with several clubs in hopes of strengthening their pitching staff, predicted every club in the National League will be involved in at least one trade either here or at the major league meetings in Chicago.

"I've never seen anything like it," he said. "Every club in our league has expressed an eagerness to trade. Not only that, but they've actually gotten down to brass tacks and mentioned names. Unless I'm all wet, I'm sure there will be a number of deals—and for top flight players, too."

One proposed multiple deal involving such big names as Richie Ashburn and Harvey Haddix of Philadelphia and Carl Furillo of Brooklyn had reached the serious stage until it was finally rejected by General Manager Roy Hamer and Manager Mayo Smith of the Phillies.

Had the deal gone through, Brooklyn would have dealt the Phillies Furillo, outfielders Gino Cimoli and Bert Hamric, shortstop Bill Lillis and pitcher Ken Lehman for Ashburn and Haddix.

"The deal is off," Smith flatly declared. "We rejected it. Brooklyn didn't offer us enough."

E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, Brooklyn's vice president, acknowledged he was anxious to acquire the Phillies' fleet centerfielder and the stylish lefthander and said he might substitute Sandy Amoros for either Cimoli or Hamric if the Phillies desired the Negro leftfielder. The Phils are one of the three clubs in the majors without a Negro player.

"It was they (the Phillies) who approached me on the deal," Bavasi said. "They asked for Furillo and Cimoli and they admitted they need a top-flight shortstop. While it's true that Lillis is without major league experience, he was regarded as the No. 1 minor league shortstop last season."

Lillis batted .266 at St. Paul but he walloped 18 home runs and paced all the shortstops in total chances, double plays and in fielding percentage. Hamric batted .299 for the same club.

A proposed deal between the Chicago Cubs and Redlegs involving either Bob Rush or Sam Jones, a pair of right-handed Cub pitchers, and Smoky Burgess, Cincinnati's second string catcher, also appears to have fallen through. Tebbetts, however, is confident his team will come out of this meeting with a pitcher.

The New York Giants have offered Ruben Gomez, their Puerto Rican right-hander to the Reds for Burgess.

"The Cubs hold the key to all trades," Tebbetts said. "At least two clubs would like to get Rush. They in turn admit they are seeking a catcher and a centerfielder. Milwaukee has made no secret of the fact it is looking for a second baseman. The giants must trade because of their misfortune in losing three fine young players to the service. Philadelphia, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh also want to trade. Once Chicago makes its move, the rest of us can go ahead."

The most active would-be traders in the American League appear to be Washington, Boston, Chicago, Baltimore and Cleveland. The names most bandied about are a trio of third basemen —Washington's Eddie Yost, Cleveland's Al Rosen and Baltimore's George Kell.

The only completed trade almost hit a snag when Commissioner Ford Frick ordered the Tigers to return pitcher Ed Blake to Kansas City. Frick ruled that Blake, who was drafted by Kansas City from Toronto, must be retained by that club at least through March 25 and be given a thorough trial. The eight-player deal was saved when the Athletics substituted pitcher Jack Crimian for Blake.

In the deal, Kansas City sent Jim Finigan and Eddie Robinson to Detroit for pitchers Ned Garver, Gene Host and Virgil Trucks and first baseman Wayne Belardi.

The A's also sold pitcher Bill Harrington to the Charleston club, a Tiger farm in the American Assn.

Of the 36 players drafted—three less than a year ago—the Pacific Coast League (open classification) took five players at a cost of $36,000, the two Triple-A leagues (International and American Assn.) took nine players for $48,250, the three Double-A leagues (Texas, Southern and Mexican) plucked 12 players for $50,000 and the three Class A leagues (Eastern, Western and Sally) selected 10 players for $22,500.

40 HUNGARIANS MAY NOT RETURN

Other Red Athletes May Seek Asylum

By MURRAY ROSE
MELBOURNE (Thursday) (AP) — Forty and possibly more Hungarian Olympians have decided to sever ties with their battle-torn homeland and seek asylum in Australia and the United States, sources close to the athletes said today.

There is a strong possibility that some athletes and officials from other nations under Soviet dominance also may take advantage of their long distance from Europe and make a break for political freedom.

Those who already have come to a decision are cheered by the public announcement of American support.

"The United States would look with favor," said American Consul General Gerald Warner in Melbourne, "on any pleas for political asylum from any Olympic games athletes — Hungarians or otherwise."

Anti-Communist Hungarians both here and in the United States have been raising funds for those who wanted to defect.

Of the 40 Hungarians reported committed, 10 to 15 expect to stay in Australia, with the remainder going to America. Five or six women and some top names are included among the defectors.

In New York, the Hungarian Catholic League, through Secretary Adam Tarnoczy, said it was ready to sponsor any of the athletes who decide not to return to their native land.

"We will guarantee jobs to those needing them," said Tarnoczy. "and we will see that student members of the team are able to continue their studies in this country."

There was widespread belief the big majority of the group of 173 Hungarians would not go back if they did not have families in Hungary.

"I have a wife and child back home," said one athlete who asked that his name not be used. "What can I do? I would rather stay here or go to the U.S.A. I cannot let them starve and must take the chance of going back and facing what I have to."

Only a handful of swimming finalists remain for the U.S. to pick up additional points, while Russia still has plenty to pick up in gymnastics, Greco-Roman wrestling, and fencing.

Thus, domination of the United States in the Olympics that began with the first modern games in Athens in 1896 almost certainly is coming to an end.

But by the irony of fate, American achievement of 15 gold medals in men's track and field and one in women's track represents a high water mark in this sport that is the center of the games.

Despite the setback in unofficial points, this was a great day for Red, White and Blue.

Pretty Shelley Mann from Arlington, Va., led a grand slam sweep of the women's 100-meter butterfly swimming event, and set a new Olympic record of 1:11.0. She was followed by Nancy Jane Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., and Mary Jane Sears of Chevy Chase, Md.

George Breen of Buffalo, N.Y., served notice on Australia's idol, Murray Rose, winner of the Olympic 400 meters that the American must be reckoned with in the 1,500 or metric mile.

Breen smashed the world record to bits in his qualifying trial, setting a new mark of 17:52.9. Rose's old record was 17:59.5. They meet in the finals Friday.

In yachting, Bert Williams of Chicago piloted the Kathleen to first place in the Star Class and the United States also picked up a third in the dinghy division as Sweden won two yachting firsts and Denmark and New Zealand copped the other gold medals.

After Russian successes in gymnastics Wednesday the score stood at 538½ points for the U.S. and 518½ for Russia. This was under the system of 10 points for each first place, and 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for the other five placings.

In gold medals, the U.S. leads with 61, to 23 for Russia. The Soviets lead in second place, or silver medals with 25, as against 22 for the U.S. Bronze medals show 24 for Russia and 12 for the Americans.

Only a handful of swimming finalists remain for the U.S. to pick up additional points, while Russia still has plenty to pick up in gymnastics, Greco-Roman wrestling, and fencing.

Police Investigating Olympic 'Party'

Reports Say Yanks Raided British Hotel

... Athletes Nude

SYDNEY, Australia (Thursday) (AP) — Sydney police are investigating stories of a riotous party held Wednesday night by some British and American Olympic athletes at Coogee Beach.

Police claim the athletes—some reportedly nude and others in underpants—ran wild on the beach for several hours.

Team managers and members denied any high jinks when asked about the party today.

Inspector R. O'Neill, officer in charge of the Randwick police area in Sydney, said he was informed the disturbance occurred when some U.S. Olympic team members "raided" the Coogee Bay Hotel where the British are staying.

The athletes reportedly concerned competed in an international track meet in Sydney Wednesday night.

The raid occurred about 11 p.m., authorities said.

This morning, the Hotel Verandah and beer garden were littered with broken beer bottles. The wire mesh in front of the hotel was wrecked and pipes had been torn out of concrete settings. Brick supports were smashed.

One taxi driver gave this account of the scene at 3:30 p.m. "American athletes were running around screaming and yelling. Most of them were nude, but a few of them were wearing underpants. The police came down while I was there to quiet them down a bit and then they left."

But as soon as the police got around the corner the athletes began their fun all over again, making a shambles of the place, he said.

One British athlete said, "The Americans were here until well after 4 o'clock this morning. Most of them were just playing around on the beach. They were swimming and fooling around. That's all I can tell you, but give them a break."

So far, Sydney police have not made any charges against either American or British athletes.

BRENNAN'S FUTURE WILL NOT BE TOLD AT BANQUET—SCRIBE

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's poorest football team in history will hold its annual banquet Thursday night without any "significant announcement" concerning Coach Terry Brennan's future, the South Bend Tribune sports editor wrote Wednesday.

Joe Doyle, in his "According to Doyle" column, said Notre Dame officials will not be "rushed into hurried evaluations now." The Irish finished with a 2-8 record this season.

Doyle indicated that no one at Notre Dame is disturbed because of "national reports" that 'Brennan is in the last year of his contract.'

The sports editor said Brennan has no contract at Notre Dame, nor did his predecessor, Frank Leahy, and added that "Notre Dame thinks in terms of agreements, not contracts."

However, when Brennan's appointment was announced by the school Feb. 1, 1954, it said young Terry was "signed to a three-year contract as head football coach." This would expire next Feb. 1.

To See 'The Stilt' You'll Need Stilts

University of Nebraska officials announced Wednesday that all reserved seats for the Kansas-Nebraska basketball game at Lincoln on Saturday, Feb. 9, have been sold.

That's the evening Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain will perform. There will be plenty of general admission seats available.

Shotgun Brings Down Record Deer

The 1956 deer hunting season in the Norfolk area opened Wednesday with a record kill—the second in a week.

Two shotgun charges fired at 45 yards brought down the buck for David De Camp of Meadow Grove along the Elkhorn river three miles from Meadow Grove.

The deer weighed 192 pounds, hog dressed with the liver and heart inside.

But the record breaking measurements were of the antlers.

The outside measurement of the right horn 28½ inches, bettering the previous record set last week by Milo St. Lucas of Omaha near Gordon. St. Lucas brought down a buck with an antler circumference of 24 inches on the left and 26 inches on the right, breaking a previous mark set in 1909.

De Camp's deer had a main antler beam circumference of 6¼ inches on the left and 6¼ on the right.

Gordon Heebner, game manager of the State Game Commission office here said after making the measurements that this tops both the state and national records. St. Lucas' deer had set the previous mark of 5 inches on the left and 5¼ on the right.

De Camp's deer was the first killed in this area. He made his kill at 7:42 a.m. The season opened at 7:18 a.m.

SOONERS' THOMAS IS TOP COLLEGE SCORER

NEW YORK (AP)—Another honor came to the Oklahoma Sooners, voted the No. 1 college team in the nation for the second straight year in The Associated Press poll, with the release Wednesday of statistics showing halfback Clendon Thomas as the major college scoring leader for 1956.

Thomas, a junior, registered 108 points to 106 scored by Jimmy Brown of Syracuse; 105 by Jack Hill of Utah State, and 102 by Thomas' running mate, Tommy McDonald.

It was the first time in history the four high scorers wound up with more than 100 points and within a six-point bracket. It also was the second time in 39 years that teammates had scored more than 100 points each. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis of Army did it in 1945 with 115 and 108 points, respectively.

It was the second time in eight years the Sooners have provided the national scoring leader, and oddly enough the other man also was named Thomas — George Thomas—who registered 117 points in 1949. They are not related.

Thomas' points all resulted from touchdowns. He scored 18 times, one more than McDonald and three more than any of the other leaders.

Three players kicked 20 or more points after touchdowns, with Jack Stovall of Arizona State making good on 24 of 31. Brown kicked 22 of 27 tries. Oregon State's John Clarke was the most consistent in that department, never missing in 16 chances. Hill missed the most, 12 of 27, a weakness which cost him the scoring crown.

Bears 'Will Be Fighting For Lives' Against Cardinals Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — "We got humility now and we'll be fighting for our lives Sunday."

That's what Coach Paddy Driscoll of the Chicago Bears told the Bear "Alumni Club" Wednesday in describing the need for victory in Sunday's crucial National Football League game with the cross-town rival Cardinals at Wrigley Field.

The Bears, after winning seven straight games, were tied by the New York Giants two Sunday ago and trounced, 42-10, by the Detroit Lions at Detroit last Sunday.

After meeting the Cardinals Sunday, the Bears close at Wrigley Field Dec. 16 against the Lions, who currently hold a half-game margin over the Bruins in the Western Division.

"We don't have to worry about Detroit," said Driscoll. "The Cardinals game is the game we have to win, or we're through." Detroit plays the Steelers at Detroit Sunday.

Driscoll, an old Cardinal star himself, said the Cardinals "always play like hell against the Bears."

"I know one thing," Paddy continued. "I'm not going to make any rash statements that they can pin up on their blackboard and use to get all steamed up for Sunday." He was referring to some pre-game haranguing on the condition of Comiskey Park before last year's meeting which resulted in a 53-14 thumping of the Bears by the Cards.

The Cardinals still nurse feeble hopes of an Eastern divisional title. They could win sectional honors by beating the Bears and the Cleveland Browns while the pace-setting Giants were losing to Cleveland and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Besides the battle for title survival, Sunday's Bear-Card showdown also will produce a head-to-head duel between the NFL's two top ball-carriers, Ollie Matson of the Cards and Rick Casares of the Bears.

Casares, shackled by the Giants and Lions, holds a one-yard lead over Matson in rushing, 819 to 818.

Ellsworth-Galbreath Campaigner Honored By TRA Swaps Named 1956 Champion Among Older Horses

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rex C. Ellsworth's Swaps, holder of five world's records, Wednesday was named 1956 champion among older colts and horses.

The Thoroughbred Racing Assn. in annual convention, announced that Swaps received 25 votes to 10 for Leslie Combs II's Nashua, with 2 to Summer Tan and 1 to Bardstown.

In 25 races over a three-year period, Swaps finished out of the money only twice, once as a two-year-old and once this year over the Washington Park turf course. In addition, he was defeated by Nashua in a special match race at Washington Park.

Swaps' only other loss this year was by a head to Porterhouse in the California at Hollywood Park.

In five other starts at Hollywood Park, Swaps broke four world's records and one track record. In the Argonaut Handicap he ran the mile in 1:33 1-5 to break Citation's record; in the Ingelwood he broke his own world's record for the mile and a sixteenth with a new mark of 1:39; in the American Handicap he won 1 1/4 miles in 1:46 4-5.

Swaps broke the track record in the mile and a quarter Hollywood

Gold Cup and set a world's record for 1 1/4 miles in the sunset handicapper at 2:38 1-5.

Earlier in the year, Swaps set a world's record for the mile and 70 yards in 1:39 3-5 at Gulfstream Park.

A son of the imported stallion, Khaleel and out of Iron Reward, Swaps was bred by Ellsworth and foaled on March 1, 1952, in California. A half interest in the champion horse was sold to John W. Galbreath, industrial developer, in September.

Swaps' career probably ended on Oct. 9, 1956, when he suffered

Albuquerque Honors Oklahoma's McDonald

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—An All-American football player was lauded as an "All-American boy" by hometown folks here Wednesday.

Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma University halfback who was All-American in 1955, was presented the key to the city and praised as the "ideal of American youth" by city and civic club leaders.

McDonald accepted the honors with assertions they were all due someone else. He particularly cited an Oklahoma teammate, Billy Pricer.

"He's that fullback that blocked for me. When he took 'em down, believe me, they really stayed there for awhile."

After flying home Tuesday, McDonald was presented the use of a Cadillac for his two-day stay. This morning he was presented in assembly at Highland High School, where he set state records in both football and basketball while a student there.

School officials announced a permanent retirement of the numbers he wore in participating in those two sports in high school.

Then, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDonald, he was a guest at an Albuquerque Kiwanis Club luncheon where city officials, public school leaders and merchants heaped him with citations and gifts.

Unable to attend because of school duties was McDonald's fiancée, Miss Ann Campbell of Oklahoma City.

Princeton Parades

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Ken MacKenzie displayed sharp shooting from every angle Wednesday night as he paced Princeton's basketball team to a 64-55 opening-game victory over Lafayette.

Notre Dame held the series edge over each of the 10 football rivals the Irish played during 1956.

Visit Planned

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—President Dick Butler of the Texas League will visit Oklahoma City to see if he can assist owner Jimmie Humphries in strengthening the franchise there.

Directors of the Texas League, meeting here in connection with the national baseball convention, asked Butler to make the visit in view of poor attendance at Oklahoma City last season.

Yankee—All The Way—Is Purchased

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Bill Miller, onetime New York Yankees rookie who said "If you want me a Yankee, pay me like a Yankee" Wednesday was purchased by Charleston, W. Va., from Shreveport, La. The price was not disclosed.

Trud Urges Red Super-Tall Team

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian trade paper Trud suggested Wednesday that the Soviet Union would have to breed "super tall" basketball players if they hoped to defeat the United States in the 1960 Olympic Games in Rome.

Trud said one of the reasons for the strength of the American team at Melbourne was "their wonderful physique."

"Most of the American players are super tall—over two meters" (about 6 1/2 feet) said the publication, "whereas only two players on the Soviet team are over two meters."

"The Soviet team did not properly absorb lessons of the 1952 Olympics," Trud said. "In the four years since then it failed to produce players with the necessary physical build."

Navy football players Gus Prall and Ernest Ehlers both come from Pottsville, Pa.

Machen Decisions John Summerlin

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Eddie Machen, 190 1/4, undefeated West Coast heavyweight, won a unanimous 10-round decision Wednesday night over Detroit's Johnny Summerlin, 196, in his first Eastern appearance.

Machen, clearly the boss throughout the bout, was nevertheless, unable to send the plodding Summerlin to the canvas.

Again and again it seemed as though Summerlin's legs would finally collapse as the sixth-ranked Detroit seemed to counterpunch out of sheer instinct.

Judges Richie Fazio and Dick Albino both scored it 7-3 for Machen. Referee Joe Palmer had it 6-4. The Associated Press called it for Machen, 7-2-1.

The victory was Machen's 19th. Summerlin has a 31-7-1 mark. Machen, fourth ranked in the National Boxing Assn. listings was expected to get a shot at Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

A total of 219,857 pheasant tags were sold in California in 1955.

Five World Marks Fall In Post-Olympic Track Meet

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—and field athletes easily defeated the British Commonwealth in their annual post-Olympic meet. Continuing the dominance they showed in the Olympics at Melbourne, the Americans hung up world marks in the 880-yard and 2-mile relays. Two of the three other records were established by the fast-stepping Australian women in the 440-yard and 880-yard relays. The fifth world mark fell to the British 4-mile team.

The Americans have won every one of these post-Olympic meetings since 1920, except the opener which ended in a tie with first places only counting in the standings.

Bobby Morrow, Olympic triple gold medal winner, anchored the U.S. to a 1:23.8 clocking in the 880-yard relay which clipped two-tenths of a second off the 7-year old record established by Southern California. The Abilene Christian College flash, who won the 100 and 200-meter sprints and anchored the winning U.S. 400-meter relay team in the Olympics last week, teamed with Leamon King of Delano, Calif., Andy Stanfield of Jersey City, N.J., and Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan.

The Americans reeled off the 2 miles on the rock-hard cinder strip atop a windy hill in 7:23 to better the 7:25.2 clocking posted by the California AAU team at Modesto, Calif., last spring.

Tom Courtney of Livingston, N.J., running anchor, was given a big lead by Jerome Walters of Los Angeles, Lon Spurrier of Delano, Calif., and Arnie Sowell of Pitt. He finished 80 yards ahead of Britain's Derek Johnson, who almost beat him in the Olympics 800-meter run.

Anchored by Betty Cuthbert, an Olympic triple winner, the Aussie girls ran the 440-yard relay in 45.6 and the 880 in 1:36.3. The accepted marks of 45.8 and 1:36.4 both were held by East Germany.

The British 4-mile team, with Australia's John Landy running the final mile in 4:05, was timed in 16:26.4 to lower the listed record of 16:41 set by Britain and Northern Ireland in 1953. Phil Coleman, Urbana, Ill.; Bill Delinger, Springfield, Ore.; Horace Ashenfelter, Glen Ridge, N.J., and Charley Jones, Boys Town, Neb., were beaten by 60 yards.

Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., led a Yank sweep of the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.9 Glen Davis of Clinton, Ohio, won the 440-yard hurdles in 51.6, leading the U.S. to team victory in the event in which Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., was fifth.

FAIRBURY OPTIMIST BOXERS TO FACE KEARNEY SATURDAY

FAIRBURY—The Fairbury Optimist Boxing Club is preparing for its first training bout exhibition at Fairbury Saturday night. Seven boys will tangle with boxers of their own weight from Kearney. Lew Holloway, chairman of the Optimist boxing committee, says the club has several boxers showing good prospects. They are John Melvin, Ben Priebe Gary Cole, participants in last year's program; and Harold Oltman, Dick Johnson, Terry McDonnell, Eldon Rossmiller, Jack Beasley, Tommy McDonnell, Johnny Koop and Gene Bauer.

Saturday night's program is a training program to give the Fairbury boys experience. The program will be held at the Optimist training quarters on the south side of the square and is open to the public.

Two Nebraskans Honored By AP

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Nebraskans were named on the Associated Press Little-All America football squad announced Wednesday.

Bill Englehardt of Omaha University was named a back on the second team. Mike Augustyn of Kearney State Teachers College, a guard, made the honorable mention list.

Also rating honorable mention was Center Truman O'Doherty of Morningside College at Sioux City, Iowa.

Corn farmers throughout the nation will go to the polls Tuesday to determine the type of corn program available for the 1957 crop year and succeeding years. The vote will be between a "soil bank corn base acreage" program, such as was used last year, and the "acreage allotment" program, which was in effect before 1956 dating from the late 1930's and which would include, as it did last season, the soil bank as a portion of the over-all plan. If two thirds or more of the farmers who vote favor base acreages, they will be used; while if more than one-third favor acreage allotments, such as the program of 1956, they will remain in effect. Who Is Eligible Eligible to vote is any person who had an interest in corn during 1956. This is to include both landlords and tenants, with one vote allowed for each individual, regardless of the number of farms he owns or operates. Notices have been sent to every farmer included in the commercial corn counties in Nebraska, those counties in which the vote will be held, informing them of the details of the vote and stating where they may vote. Each farmer has also received his corn acreages which would be in effect under each of the plans.

Charley Clark, ASC official in charge of the voting, anticipated the results of the vote would be known in the state office before 11 p.m. Tuesday.

Here in Lancaster County, the following polling places have been established: Hermance Garage, at Raymond, for West Oak, Little Salt and Oak precincts. Malcolm Community Hall, at Malcolm, for Elk and Middle Creek precincts. Davey Hall, at Davey, for Rock Creek and North Bluff precincts. Waverly Town Hall, at Waverly, for Waverly and Mill precincts. EUB Church basement, at Cheney, for Stuckton and Grant precincts. Legion Hall, at Hickman, for Saltillo and South Pass precincts. 1000 F. Hall, at Panama, for Nemaha and Panama precincts. Sprague Hardware Store, at Sprague, for Centerville and Buda precincts. Farmers Union Hall, at Kramer, for Olive Branch and Highland precincts. Denton Town Hall, at Denton, for Yankee Hill and Denton precincts. Lutheran Church basement, at Walton, for Lancaster and Stevens Creek precincts. Lancaster County ASC Office, 138 So. 9th St., for Garfield and West Lincoln precincts.

New ARRID with PERSTOP®
Stops Perspiration Stains—Stops Odor
DRAMATIC STEAMBATH TEST SHOWS HOW

This woman was put in a steam bath at 104 degrees. Arrid with Perstop® was rubbed into her forehead. Fifteen minutes later...

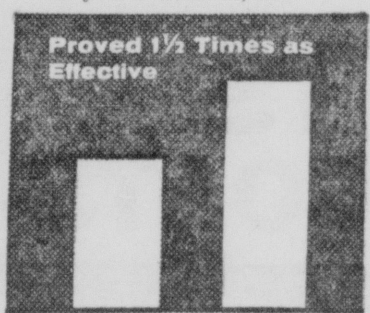

... she was dripping with perspiration—but Arrid with Perstop® kept her forehead dry. Arrid will do the same for your underarms, too.

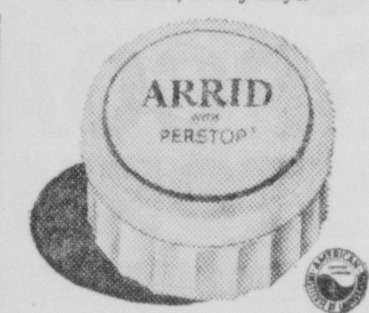

Just rub Arrid in—rub perspiration out. Rub Arrid in—rub odor out. When the cream vanishes you know you're safe even on hot, sticky days.

Arrid with Perstop®, used daily, keeps your clothes safe from ugly stains, keeps your underarms dry, soft and sweet.

Proved 1 1/2 Times as Effective

So... don't be half-safe. Be completely safe. Use new Arrid with Perstop® to be sure. 43¢ plus tax.

USDA To See Dry Counties

A U.S. Department of Agriculture representative, Harry Thomas, is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln Thursday to begin inspecting 12 Nebraska counties seeking designation as major drought disaster areas.

If the counties receive the designation, they will be eligible for participation in the emergency feed grain program. Ed Hoyt, director of the state department of agriculture and inspection, said the counties are Lancaster, Otoe, Custer, Dundee, Johnson, Hall, Fillmore, Frontier, Kearney, Red Willow, Hayes and Saline.

West German Draft Moves Step Nearer

BONN (INS)—The West German parliament approved the second and third readings of the conscription bill, thus paving the way for military service of only 12 months duration for draftees. Passage of the government bill meant the callup of draftees will begin on April 1 provided further legislation dealing with discipline, pay, pensions and other soldier legislation also is approved.

U.S. Will Airlift Refugees From Germany Instead Of Austria

VIENNA (AP)—U.S. military planes carrying Hungarian refugees to the United States will operate from Germany instead of Austria. The idea, it was explained Wednesday, is to deflate Russian pretenses for charges that Austrian neutrality is being violated.

The U.S. Air Force will fly from

Burgess President Of TWA

Defense Aide Post Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carter L. Burgess, 39, is quitting as assistant secretary of defense to become president of Trans World Airlines.

His appointment as the youngest president of a major airline was announced in Los Angeles late Wednesday by Howard Hughes, president and sole owner of Hughes Tool Co., which has controlling interest in TWA.

President Eisenhower earlier Wednesday accepted Burgess' resignation at his vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., expressing deep regret, Eisenhower lauded Burgess for "accomplishments of lasting value" as assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, personnel and reserves.

Burgess had written Eisenhower that he had to "resume business activities in order to provide for my growing family."

The Pentagon official has five daughters.

Eisenhower replied, "I well understand the necessities that led to your decision."

Succeeds Damon

The resignation will take effect not later than Feb. 1.

As TWA president, Burgess succeeds Ralph Damon, president from 1949 until his death last January. John A. Collings of Kansas City, executive vice president, has been the airline's chief executive pending the naming of a new president.

Hughes said Burgess would assume his duties as TWA's chief executive officer, a member of the board of directors and a member of the executive committee "following completion of government projects in which he is currently engaged."

He will be in charge of an airline serving 35,000 miles of routes in the United States, Europe, Africa and Asia.

Burgess was assistant to the president of TWA, in the line's Washington office, in 1946-47. He left to become an official of General Aniline and Film Corp., New York City, and was named to his Pentagon job in 1954.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures for the five days through Monday will average 5 to 8 degrees below normal in northern Nebraska to 3 to 5 degrees below in the south. Temperature trends will be toward the colder first of the period, with warming indicated about Sunday and Monday. Normal highs range from the middle 30s in the northeast to the lower 40s in the southwest, and normal lows from about 15 in the northwest to the low 20s in the southeast. Precipitation is expected to average about .15 of an inch in the northern portion and a little more in the south, occurring as snow mostly Saturday and Sunday night.

8,000 to 9,500 Hungarians to America. The military airlift is to begin Dec. 10 or 11, to carry 500 persons daily. Commercial planes are expected to take another 500 a day.

This was announced by the U.S. Defense Department to the Inter-governmental Committee for European Migration. The United States also will provide ocean shipping transport to help the ICEM.

That the U.S. planes will operate from Germany is a relief to the Austrians. They have strained all their resources to give temporary haven to 114,000 refugees. But they had to promise strict neutrality in East-West conflicts to get withdrawal of Russian forces from their own country.

Now Moscow has accused Austria of arming the Hungarian rebels and with sheltering "fascist refugees."

The U.S.-bound refugees will be moved by train and civilian planes to West Germany. They will be picked up by military planes at Frankfurt and flown to McGuire Field, N. J.

In addition, 7,000 single men among the refugees are to be taken to America on U.S. military transport ships.

The flow of refugees across the Hungarian frontier has slackened. Tuesday the ICEM moved out of Austria 1,500 more than entered the country. Wednesday the number arriving dropped again.

The ICEM already has transferred about 41,000 refugees, but of these only about 3,000 have left Europe. The United States has promised to take in 21,500.

'Paroles'

The semi-official Austrian News Agency reported Wednesday that in Vorarlberg Province of Eastern Austria, 70 to 80 per cent of the refugees said they wanted to go to the United States, many are bound to be disappointed. More than enough applications have already been taken for the 6,500 regular visas to be issued. Others will have to accept "paroles" and trust President Eisenhower's promise to ask Congress for legislation to let them stay permanently.

News that a solution to the refugee problem may be closer came to Austria on St. Nicholas Eve, traditionally celebrated in this part of the world as a kind of pre-Christmas. In many places Austrians treated refugee children to the traditional sweets and candies.

Though the flow of refugees has eased, there still are thousands sleeping on straw. Isolated camps, still uncoordinated with central relief authorities, were reported well supplied with food but cut off from almost any information about the refugee future.

Eden Reported In 'Good Spirits'

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Prime Minister Eden was reported in good spirits Wednesday after suffering a slight indisposition Sunday night. The nature of the ailment was not disclosed but it was believed to be a stomach upset.

The British leader was treated by a doctor and remained indoors Monday. He resumed normal activities Tuesday, strolling on the lawn with Lady Eden.

Silk and Dynamite

Here's performance that is all new...from a fan that saves horsepower to the kind of air the engine breathes!

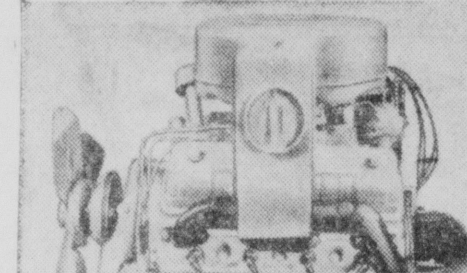

Only Mercury offers you these dream-drive features

The "silk" is Mercury's exclusive Floating Ride. The "dynamite" is the mightiest power in Mercury history—a new 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8 engine. And here are some of the "dream-drive" features:

AN EXCLUSIVE POWER-BOOSTER FAN SAVES HORSEPOWER in Mercury's Montclair series—a first in American engine design. When the fan isn't needed for engine cooling it coasts—saves power other cars waste, and results in a far quieter ride.

EXCLUSIVE FLOATING RIDE ABSORBS BUMPS AND NOISE—A combination of 4 of the most effective bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road, including revolutionary new Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers and new swept-back ball-joint suspension. Vibrations are absorbed before they get to you.

EXCLUSIVE THERMO-MATIC CARBURETOR controls the temperature of air the engine breathes, helps keep it uniform summer and winter. Starting is easier. More usable power is available. And you save gas.

But these are only samples of the dream-car features you can expect in the bigger all-over BIG M. You'll see dozens more at our showroom. Come in today. Dream-test THE BIG M.

Wheat Stockpile For Defense Advocated

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Wheat Growers Assn. Wednesday recommended that 500 million bushels of good quality, edible, wheat be set aside each year as a national defense stockpile.

The proposal would take the grain completely out of the market. The amount represents half the current wheat surplus.

The resolution was one introduced from the floor. Others, including a proposal to send Nebraskans abroad to promote the sale of Nebraska wheat in foreign markets, came from convention committees.

Bruns President

Before winding up its annual meeting, the association elected Carl Bruns of Chappell as president, George Gerdes of Alliance first vice president; and Jim Hoyt, Culbertson second vice president.

In its action on resolutions, the convention altered a committee draft of one dealing with wheat parity. Instead of a suggested separate parity for wheat the association urged that a parity formula for all crops should be developed to make use of an index based on the cost of production.

The proposal made by the marketing committee called for financial support for delegations of representative Nebraska wheat growers ers in the Lincoln and Omaha grain trade to go overseas to promote the sale of wheat in foreign markets.

Nebraska News

Exchange Help Sought

A companion proposal called for the help of the Lincoln and Omaha grain exchanges to export Nebraska wheat.

Other recommendations passed by the three-year-old state association called for:

Continued efforts to obtain a separate parity formula for wheat; Continued action for a domestic parity plan for wheat (the two price system) delaying that only until a satisfactory formula is worked out and until a stabilized price for feed grains is established;

Increase in the size of soil bank payments to induce further cuts in production;

A recommendation that the U.S. Department of Agriculture sell 100 million bushels of low grade Commodity Credit Corporation held wheat yearly for feed;

Continued study of the bushel allotment program in view of the "apparent failure" of the acreage program to control production.

VICE ADM. STEVENS

Adm. Stevens, 61, Kearney Native, Dies In Florida

SANFORD, Fla.—Vice Admiral Leslie C. Stevens, 61, retired USN, former naval attaché at the United States Embassy in Moscow and a native Nebraskan, is dead.

While on a vacation cruise aboard his boat, Adm. Stevens became ill and was hospitalized. Since his retirement, he lived in Annapolis but spent his winters fishing off the Florida coast.

Born in Kearney, Neb., he was graduated from the Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1913 and from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1918.

He went to Moscow in 1947 as naval attaché, serving for two years. He was with the joint chiefs of staff from 1949 until his retirement in 1951. From 1934 to 1937 he was assistant naval air attaché in London.

Adm. Stevens had a hand in the design and conception of all naval aircraft, carriers and carrier landing apparatus used in World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Nell; a son, Leslie of New York City; and a sister, Mrs. George Turtle of Brownville, Tex.

Ceremonial Apron Is Given To Baker

OMAHA (AP)—Lewis E. Baker of McCook was presented the ceremonial apron of the Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Nebraska Wednesday during the 90th annual convention of the York Rite Masons.

He succeeds District Judge Harry A. Spencer of Lincoln.

Albion Will Host Irrigation Clinic

OMAHA (AP)—Albion, Nebraska, will be the site of the 1957 Irrigation Clinic, scheduled January 15.

Harold Schermerhorn, chairman of the Irrigation Committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, said the one-day meeting will present outstanding authorities on the subjects of off-season irrigation, changing over from dry-land to irrigation farming and other vital matters. Special group sessions also are planned for farmers turning to irrigation for the first time, as well as those who have used the system before.

Farm Price Index Higher Than Year Ago

The index of prices received by Nebraska farmers for their products stood at 234 on November 15, a decline of six points from the mid-October level but 15 points higher than a year ago, the state-Federal division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

A seasonally lower price for corn along with sharp decreases in cattle, hog and lamb prices were said primarily responsible for the decrease. Higher prices for wheat, hay, wholesale milk and eggs partially offset the decrease and prevented a further decline.

The average price of corn dropped from $1.35 per bushel on October 15 to $1.31 in mid-November. On the other hand, wheat advanced five cents to reach $2.06 per bushel. All other feed grains were slightly higher in price.

Baled hay increased 70 cents to average $22.50 per ton. The mid-November price of alfalfa seed, dry beans, and soybeans advanced slightly during the month. Potato prices at $1.20 per cwt. on November 15 were off five cents.

Cattle at $16.80 per cwt. declined 30 cents during the month, and hog prices were sharply lower at $14.20. Lambs declined 90 cents per cwt. to reach $18.70. Calf and sheep prices advanced slightly during the month. Wholesale milk prices increased five cents to average $4.80 per cwt. and butterfat in cream at 60 cents per pound was one cent higher.

Old Creighton Church Building Burned

CREIGHTON, Neb. (AP)—The 72-year-old former St. Ludger Catholic Church here, which was being remodeled into a gymnasium, burned to the ground early Wednesday despite the efforts of four fire departments.

St. Ludger Catholic Parish had dedicated a new church on Nov. 21 and the old frame church was being made into a gymnasium for St. Ludger Academy, which adjoins it. The remodeling work was practically complete.

The cause of the fire was not determined. It was discovered by Dale Reese, who was working late at his livestock pavilion.

The Creighton, Plainview, Verdigris and Brunswick fire departments joined in fighting the flames, and while they could not save the old church, they did prevent the flames from spreading to St. Ludger Academy building which is only 30 feet away.

For a time it was feared that the tall steeple of the old church would topple onto the academy, but possibly because of the weight of the bell, it fell straight down when the steeple collapsed.

Because of smoke, classes were dismissed at St. Ludger Academy Wednesday, and 10 nuns who live on the top floor of the building had to leave their quarters and take up temporary residence in neighboring homes for the night.

Pastor of the church is Msgr. Joseph B. Falke, now a patient at St. Catherine's Hospital in Omaha, where he is being treated for foot trouble.

Slaughter Mark Up In October

Livestock slaughtering in Nebraska during October climbed 27 per cent over the previous month and topped October of last year by three per cent, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

The commercial kill, live weight, in October totaled 280,658,000 pounds.

For the first 10 months of this year, the slaughter has totaled 2,460,671,000 pounds, up three per cent from the same period last year.

The October kill included 176,000 cattle, compared with 167,000 in October a year ago; 6,100 calves, up 1,700 from last year; 421,000 hogs, down 6,000 from last year, and 93,000 sheep and lambs, compared with 96,000 last year.

Korineks Become Publishers Of Weekly Wilber Republican

Lincoln Star Special

WILBER, Neb. — Stuart Bohacek announced the sale of the Wilber Republican to Milo L. and Arlene Mae Korinek. Transfer of the ownership of the weekly paper and commercial printing business became effective Dec. 1.

Bohacek, who will soon accept a position as a foreign service staff officer with the United States Information Agency, has been editor and publisher of the Wilber Republican since November, 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Korinek became the sixth proprietors of the 70-year-old paper. As co-publishers and editors, they succeed Bohacek, Mrs. Sylvia Buchal, Louis Buchal, Howard Crilly and the founder, J. A. Wild.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Korinek are native Wilberites. Since his graduation from Wilber High School and except for a period in military service, Mr. Korinek has operated a farm.

Mrs. Korinek is a graduate of Crete High School, Doane College and has taken advanced work at the University of Nebraska. She is state president of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, Inc. Mrs. Korinek has had nine years experience in teaching high school journalism.

Ike To Personally 'Size Up' Needs Of Drought-Hit Region

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to travel by plane for an aerial look at parching which has brought hardship to thousands of farmers and ranchers. He also will confer in the areas with representatives of those groups and with local government officials.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen he was unable to say at this time just which states the President will fly over and visit.

Nebraska Not Mentioned

But Hagerty said that among areas hardest hit by drought are southern Colorado, southern Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Arizona.

The government already has a program of drought relief in various forms, carried on mainly through the Agriculture Department.

Last October the administration took additional aid steps, and the President said at that time he would make a later personal inspection of the stricken areas.

To Help Decide

Hagerty said the tour will help the President decide whether still more federal relief is required, and whether authorizing legislation is needed.

This is Eisenhower's 10th day of vacation combined with work at his Augusta National Golf Club headquarters. Indications are he will stay on at least another week.

Eisenhower Tuesday accepted the resignation of Carter I. Burgess as assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, personnel and reserves. It is effective not later than Feb. 1.

Mrs. Eisenhower Tuesday made her first appearance at a public function since coming to Augusta. The First Lady attended a luncheon given in her honor by the Women's Club at nearby Ft. Gordon.

for Nebraska taxpayers

An adequate, modern highway system doesn't just happen. It is the result of sound, careful planning, proper engineering design and the best possible type of pavement for each road in the system.

In this state, as in others, highway planning is a continuing job. Providing new and better roads to meet the personal, commercial and defense interests of all sections of the state is the task of the legislature, highway officials and engineers—and you.

Every motorist and commercial highway user has a vital stake in roads because his license fees, gas and other taxes pay for them. Tax dollars go farther when invested in concrete pavements. Concrete has moderate first cost, low maintenance cost and long life. The result: low annual cost. Concrete is safest, too. Its gritty texture is highly skid-resistant; its light color provides better visibility at night.

Here's how you can help this state get a highway system second to none: 1. Get behind sound highway planning. 2. Support your state highway department in their efforts to provide better roads.

'Home For Christmas' Operation In Full Swing For British, French At Said

PORT SAID (INS)—"Operation home for Christmas" went into full swing Wednesday with the withdrawal from Port Said of some 2,500 British troops.

The transport Dilwara and seven landing ship tanks were loaded with soldiers and military vehicles and sailed for home.

Another 1,000 soldiers were scheduled to depart shortly aboard the troopship Ascania.

Allied headquarters identified the first troops to sail in accordance with the Anglo-French evacuation agreement were units of the 29th Infantry Brigade and the Royal Fusiliers.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, whose United Nations emergency force now controls parts of the Anglo-French occupied zone, made a quick trip to Port Said Wednesday to iron out final evacuation plans with the Anglo-French supreme commander, Gen. Sir Charles K. Nightley.

Pull-Out

The French too were loading heavy equipment in preparation for the pull-out. Most officers said the evacuation would not be completed for two to three weeks.

(When Burns returned to his Cairo headquarters, he announced through a spokesman he would fly to Israel Thursday to discuss with the Israelis "Army matters concerning the withdrawal from Sinai and the advance of the U.N.E.F.")

(Observers in Cairo pointed out that Burns has no authority to negotiate political issues. But they said he might be told in Jerusalem that Israel has no intention of evacuating the Gaza Strip.)

(This announcement by Israel—which was strongly hinted Wednesday in a statement by an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman—could spark another explosion in the Middle East, the observers said.)

'Resistance'

Meanwhile, Port Said's "passive resistance" to the Anglo-French became more curious.

The Anglo-French field commander, Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, ordered his soldiers to keep Arab vendors off the streets until the city's shopkeepers reopened their stores.

For the past 48 hours Arab leaders themselves had been demanding that the vendors get off the streets.

Thus, by a strange twist, the Freedom Of Passage

TEL AVIV (INS)—Authoritative sources indicated Wednesday night Israel expects Egypt to agree to give Israeli vessels freedom of passage through the Suez Canal and open peace negotiations before Israeli troops are pulled out of the Gaza Strip.

The sources said Israel also wants "satisfactory" assurances from Cairo on these questions before Israel could consider a quick withdrawal from the Gaza area as demanded by the United Nations.

The informants added the Israelis must receive a promise that Egypt will not use bases in neighboring Jordan, Syria and Lebanon, as well as Gaza, for Arab commando attacks inside Israel.

These assurances, the sources added, were necessary because of the strong Israeli sentiment that the Gaza area should not be returned until the nation's future security is guaranteed.

Security from such attack, it was stressed, is considered the smallest acceptable fruit of the Sinai victory against the Egyptians.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman commenting on the Gaza issue said: "We have definite plans for Gaza's status, but do not feel inclined to disclose our hand."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd has urged Israel to get out of the Gaza Strip, which then would become a United Nations responsibility.

Must Co-Operate

TEL AVIV, Israel (P)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said Israel must co-operate with the United Nations.

In a speech to the annual meeting of the Histadrut-Labor Confederation—Ben-Gurion declared:

"It is not difficult to find faults and weaknesses in the activities of the United Nations, or to point out errors of omission and commission for which the leadership of the U.N. has been responsible from the time it was founded until our day. . . .

"But we shall make a grave and fatal mistake if we deduce from these weaknesses and errors that the United Nations is of no value. We must co-operate with the United Nations to the utmost of our capacity."

NWU Alumni Activity Hits 'All-Time High'

Alumni activity for Nebraska Wesleyan's more than all-time high, Chancellor A. Leland Forrest announced Wednesday.

He reported 11 alumni clubs are now active in Nebraska. Most of them have been organized in the past few months. Wesleyan clubs also are active in Denver, Washington, D.C., New York City and Southern and Northern California.

Bill Hill, director of the alumni program at Wesleyan; Bill Carriker of Lincoln, alumnus in charge, and Dr. Harold Sandall, Lincoln minister and president of the Wesleyan Alumni Association, have been directing the club development.

Dr. Forrest said, "Eventually we hope to have the greater majority of Wesleyan's more than 4,000 graduates active in alumni clubs."

Nebraska clubs now active, and their chairman or president:

Scottsbluff, Bill Nickols; Kearney, Kenneth Dreyer; Dawson County, Dick Hart; Fillmore County, Howard Hamilton; Southeast Nebraska, Mrs. Hubert Benson; Lincoln, Don Harrington Jr.; Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Birch; Northwest Nebraska, Mrs. Edgar Thorness; Panhandle, Herman Heise, and North Platte, Rod Elson Jr.

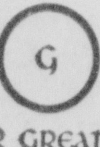

Plans are under way for clubs in McCook, Omaha, Grand Island, Ogallala, Holdrege-Minden, Beatrice, York-Seward, Hastings, Columbus and Tekamah-Blair. Out-of-state clubs to be organized are Seattle, Portland, Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Boston and Sioux City.

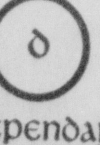

Mrs. Hanley Rites To Be On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine Hanley, 97, of 2625 So. 12th, will be held 2 p.m. Friday at Hodgman-Splain, with Dr. Frank A. Court officiating. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mrs. Hanley died Wednesday. A Lincoln resident for 55 years, she was a native of Dwight, Ill.

Surviving are a daughter, Minnie E. Hanley of Lincoln; daughter-in-law, Mrs. John L. Hanley of Maywood, Ill.; three grandchildren and one great-grandson.

County Superintendents Of State Recommend Changes In Redistricting, Certification

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer
The Nebraska Association of County Superintendents Wednesday

day afternoon endorsed a legislative program which included recommendations on redistricting methods and changes in certification of new county superintendents and teachers.

County Superintendents Elect

Acting on the program advised by its legislative committee, the association adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the kindergarten testing program be eliminated.
2. All new county superintendents coming into office must hold an administrative certificate by September, 1958, and that the salary of the county superintendent be commensurate with such a certificate and the duties of the office.
3. Endorsement of the proposed Nebraska State Education Association legislative program:
 - (a) Provide for a broadening of the tax base; provide for state participation in school support.
 - (b) Enactment of legislation favoring reorganization of school districts into K-12 units within districts which have a large enough enrollment and valuation to provide a good accredited program.
 - (c) Maintain continued vigilance to protect the school lands and income therefrom.
 - (d) Increase certification requirements for teachers in Nebraska to a minimum of a bachelor's degree.
 - (e) Continue the one-half mill tax (or equivalent) keeping the teachers' retirement system on a sound financial basis.

The association voted down a proposed NSEA resolution to increase free high school tuition in keeping with current school costs. The NSEA proposals will be voted upon at the Delegate assembly which will be held in Lincoln Friday and Saturday.

The County Superintendent Association made amendments to the proposed NSEA legislative recommendation (b) dealing with redistricting. The NSEA proposal is stated: Enact legislation directing reorganization of all school districts into administrative units which will provide an accredited educational program through the twelfth grade.

The superintendents' association made the amendments to emphasize the importance of a district's having sufficient enrollment and valuation to handle the consolidation for improved education. Election of officers was held prior to the business meeting and Mrs. Elizabeth Ellison of Wahoo, Saunders County superintendent, was elected president of the association. Mrs. Ellison, who was named vice president last year, has been acting president since May when Wilfred Semerad joined the NSEA.

Lester Reid of Beatrice, Gage County superintendent, was named vice president; Mrs. Velma Weir of Hartington, Cedar County superintendent, was elected secretary; Eldon Cunningham of Grand Island, Hall County superintendent, was re-elected treasurer, and Miss Clara Otteman of Pender, Thurston County superintendent, was named sergeant-at-arms. At a Wednesday morning panel discussion, the group was told that academic standards are slipping in many of Nebraska's small schools because of uncertainties of the current emphasis on school district reorganization. H. D. Bugbee of Auburn, Nebraska County superintendent, said small schools are no longer buying new text books and other equipment because they think they will eventually be made a part of another district. Opinion appeared to be split over whether redistricting should be handled by the state or counties. Those favoring the counties' making the reorganization plans cited the feeling that school patrons fear losing control through reorganization. Others suggested that a deadline be set for counties to complete laying the ground-work for redistricting, and then letting the state take over. Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly every one reads The "Sunday Journal and Star."

Lausche May Be On Hand To Play A Major Role In Opening New Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. elect Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) may possibly be on hand to play a major role in the opening of the new Senate, his administrative assistant, Ray White, said Wednesday. Lausche's vote could be decisive in organizing the closely divided chamber, since he has said he was not sure whether he would side with the Democrats or the Republicans. After talking on general matters Wednesday with Senate Secretary Felton M. Johnston, White told a reporter that Lausche still hopes to serve out his term as Ohio governor.

White said, "there could be circumstances developing down here and in Columbus" that might require Lausche to be here on the opening day of Congress, Jan. 3. He declined to elaborate on the "circumstances."

Asked whether Lausche would vote with his own party or the GOP under such circumstances, White replied: "I think that is up to the governor to say." White said he didn't discuss Lausche's voting plans with Johnston or other Democratic officials with whom he talked.

Several months ago Lausche said he might vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate if President Eisenhower was re-elected. He hedged a bit after the election, saying Nov. 8:

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio. If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote, taking into consideration the composition of the Senate, the fact that Eisenhower is president and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

As it stands now, the new Senate will be made up of 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans. If Lausche sided with the Republicans, Vice President Nixon, as presiding officer of the Senate, could break the 48-48 tie in favor of Republican organization.

Many Democratic senators are saying now that they believe that in any showdown Lausche would side with his own party.

Signs Hint Eden May Get Ouster

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Signs mounted that Anthony Eden's days may be numbered as prime minister, even though his Conservative government seems sure of winning a vote of confidence Thursday night.

Eden's party closed its ranks as the opposition Laborites charged in a critical House of Commons foreign policy debate that Britain "connived" at war with Egypt. But there was still a developing revolt inside the party against Eden's leadership.

Capt. Charles Waterhouse, a life-long Tory and leader of a right-wing extremist group, told the House he would abstain in the voting as a protest against Britain's withdrawal from Egypt.

But he emphasized: "If I thought there is any chance by my abstention of putting the opposition—Socialists—in, I should no more think of abstaining than I should think of singing a song... in this house."

Sit Out Vote

About a dozen other Conservative lawmakers are expected to sit out the vote in a silent protest. The government has an overall majority of 59—sufficient to withstand a minor revolt of abstentions.

There was still strong feeling against Eden's leadership among Tory legislators, evident in the lobbies of the Westminster Parliament. The 59-year-old Prime Minister is in Jamaica resting up from "severe overstrain." He is due back in two weeks.

Some influential Conservatives are saying Eden will be under pressure to resign soon after he gets back.

Eden has defended his government's policy down the line since President Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal on July 26.

Continental To Vote On Stock Increase Proposal

Stockholders of the Continental National Bank of Lincoln will vote on a proposal at their annual meeting that the bank issue 10,000 additional shares of capital stock at $50 per share.

The meeting will be held at 9 a.m. on Jan. 8 at the bank.

If the stockholders approve the proposal each stockholder will be entitled to purchase one new share for each four shares now owned.

Issuance of the additional stock would increase the capital and surplus of the bank $250,000 each.
